ENHANCING CONNECTIVITY WITH ASEAN A PRIORITY: MODI

PM said strengthening all kinds of connectivity, including in social, digital and financial spheres, with Asean is a major focus for India

INDIA AND ASEAN HAVE SIMILAR GOALS

Prime Minister Narenda Modi made the remarks at a virtual summit between India and the 10-nation Asean grouping. "We believe a cohesive and responsive Asean is needed for security and growth for all in the region," Modi said. He added there are many similarities between India's 'Indo-Pacific Oceans Initiative' and Asean's 'Outlook on Indo-Pacific'

EASING COVID STRESS

Stimulus shot for jobs, businesses, economy

Nirmala Sitharaman's third package offers job creation scheme; emergency credit line guarantee extended till March 2021

ANURADHA SHUKLA @ New Delhi

THE government on Thursday sought to lift the sagging economy through an early Diwali gift in the form of Atmanirbhar Bharat 3.0.

The long-awaited stimulus package unveiled by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman aims to generate employment, offer credit support to 26 stressed sectors identified by the Kamath Committee, and revive the real estate sector.

Sources said the Centre's additional spending this year will be ₹1.30 lakh crore as most schemes are spread over 2-5 years.

The cumulative stimulus measures announced so far stand at around ₹30 lakh crore, or 15% of the GDP, according to Sitharaman. She pegged the total allocation of the measures announced on Thursday at ₹2.65 lakh crore. This includes the productivity-linked incentive scheme announced on Wednesday.

While the government extended the ₹3 lakh crore emergency credit line guarantee scheme till March 31 next year, the centrepiece of the third stimulus package was Atmanirbhar Bharat Rozgar Yojana, which aspires to generate employment.

It offers a two-year subsidy to firms that hire employees between September 30, 2020 and June 30, 2021. Under this, the government will pay both the employee's contribution towards EPFO (12% of basic salary) and the employer's contribution (12%) in firms with less than 1,000 staff.

For larger firms employing over 1,000, the government will pay only the employee's part (12%) with the companies continuing to contribute 12% as before. The subsidy will be only for employees with monthly wages up to ₹15,000.

To avail the scheme, companies with less than 50 employees will have to hire two new staff, while firms with headcount above 50 will need to create five new jobs.

The subsidy will cost the government ₹6,000 crore over two years. Experts say it will improve the jobs scenario.

Sitharaman also allocated ₹10,000 crore more for the rural job scheme.

Meanwhile, the struggling real estate sector has got a good reason to cheer with the FM announcing ₹18,000 crore extra stimulus under the PM Awas Yojana. Plus, tax rules have been eased to allow sale of housing units up to ₹2 crore at a price 20% below the stamp duty circle rate. Currently, rules restrict the differential at 10%, lest penalties under I-T Act will apply. FULL COVERAGE: P13

EPF INCENTIVE TO CREATE JOBS

Registration fee cut to 3 pc for industries, low-cost flats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON the day Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced a fresh economic stimulus package, the Karnataka cabinet approved slashing of registration fee for industries and low-cost apartments.

Under the New Industrial Policy, the cabinet approved slashing of registration fee from 5 per cent to 3 per cent. This has also been extended to apartments costing under Rs 20 lakh. The move is expected to help home buyers in tier-II and tier-III cities.

"Flats costing less than Rs 20 lakh will also be eligible for this rebate on registration fee," said Karnataka Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister J C Madhuswamy.

In May, the state government had reduced the registration stamp duty from 5 per cent to 3 per cent for properties costing between ₹21 lakh and ₹35 lakh.

In his budget announcement, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa had promised reduction in property registration fees for first-time buyers.

Cabinet approves borrowing of ₹7,438 crore for suburban rail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Cabinet on Thursday gave administrative approval for borrowing ₹7,438 crore (60% of the total estimated project cost) for the much awaited Bengaluru Suburban Rail project, from donor and lending agencies.

While the initial cost was estimated at ₹18,621 crore, it has since been reduced to ₹15,767 crore by opting for a PPP (public-private partnership) model for procurement, operation and maintenance of rolling stock to bring down capital cost. Of the total, the Union and Karnataka governments are to fund 20 per cent each. Apart from the equity amount, Karnataka will also fund the cost of land, State GST, interest during construction and front-end fee.

"As per suggestions of the Union Finance Ministry and Railway Ministry, ₹7,438 crore can be borrowed via a Special Purpose Vehicle. The project will cover four corridors, with a total route length of 148.17 km and 62 stations," said Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister J C Madhuswamy.

Sources hinted that the state is looking to raise loans at an interest rate of 1.4% for a period of 30 years with repayment starting in 2029. The loan guarantees for the 60 per cent borrowing is proposed to be shared equally between State and Union governments.

Land belonging to Railways and the State Government is proposed to be leased at a nominal lease of Re 1 per acre while the cost of private land to be acquired will be borne by the state. The project is projected to be completed in six years. The revenue per year from the completed suburban rail project is estimated at ₹1,378 crore.

Up to BJP to decide on LJP's fate, says Nitish

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

CHIEF Minister Nitish Kumar on Thursday casually tossed the LJP bomb on to the BJP's lap, saying it was for them to decide on the fate of Chirag Paswan's party, whose demolition job reduced the JD(U) to third position in the recent Assembly polls.

Chirag had dropped out of the state NDA weeks before polling to attack Nitish's party but chose to stay with the central NDA, saying he wanted to strengthen Prime Minister Narendra Modi's hands.

"It is up to the BJP to look into this. We are analysing as how the votes were divided on the seats of our candidates. Both the NDA and the JD(U) are studying it," he said.

JD(U) president and Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar being greeted by supporters as he arrives at the party office, in Patna on Thursday | PTI

Addressing his first press meet after the polls, Nitish said the government formation process will be discussed at an NDA meet on Friday. The date of the swearing-in will be finalised in the next few days.

A day after Modi's endorsement of him continuing as the chief minister, Nitish sought to weave out of a question on whether he wanted to head the NDA government again.

Claiming that he never projected himself as the chief minister, Nitish said, "It is up to the NDA to decide. We will abide by its decision."

Rebutting RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav's allegation that the mandate was snatched away by the NDA through manipulation, Nitish said it was the NDA that got the mandate.

Seeking to bring closure to the debate on his recent one-liner that this election was his last, he said, "I will continue serving the people as long as they would want."

Nitish said he will resign after the NDA legislature party meeting to pave the way for the installation of the next government. "The tenure of this government is till Nov 29. In the next few days, every thing will be cleared and completed." P10

RBI had warned of 'unrelenting pressure of inflation'

In its latest report on the state of economy, the Reserve Bank of India had flagged the unrelenting pressure of inflation as a downside risk confronting the prospects of economic recovery. "The foremost is the unrelenting pressure of inflation, with no signs of waning in spite of supply management measures...There is a grave risk of generalisation of price pressures, unanchoring of inflation expectations feeding into a loss of credibility in policy interventions and the eventual corrosion of the nascent growth impulses that are making their appearance," RBI said

RETAIL INFLATION AT 77-MONTH HIGH IN OCT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

INDIA's factory output grew for the first time in seven months in September, government data showed on Thursday, raising hopes that the economy may be on the mend. But the cheer could be short-lived as another set of data showed retail inflation has climbed to a 77-month high in October at 7.61%.

An RBI report released on Wednesday night had said India entered a technical recession in the first half of FY21 for the first time in history. The central bank also pegged an 8.6% contraction in GDP in the September quarter.

According to the official data released on Thursday, the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) was up on the back of improved mining activities, which grew at 1.4%, better demand for electricity at 4.9% and improvement in manufacturing activity, which contacted 0.6% against 7.9% dip in August 2020.

Devendra Pant, chief economist at CARE Ratings, said the growth in industrial production would not have been possible without last year's low base as IIP had contracted 4.6% in September 2019.

He added whether this recovery is sustainable or not will depend on the data that comes over the next few months.

In another worrying development, annual consumer price inflation in India rose to 7.61% in October, the highest since May 2014, mainly on account of high food prices.

Food inflation surged to 11.07%, the highest since January. Vegetables inflation stood at 22.5%, pulses at 18.3%, meat and fish inflation was 18.7%, while that for eggs, it came in at 21.8%.

Aditi Nayar, principal economist at credit ratings agency ICRA, said the possibility of a rate cut in February 2021, too, looks slim at the moment, because inflation is expected to recede below 6% only after December.

Drugs worth ₹1.2 cr hidden in foot massager seized

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Bengaluru Customs officials have seized 2.575 kg of drugs worth ₹1.23 crore in separate cases over the last two days at the Foreign Post Office (FPO) at Chamarajpet and at the cargo section of the Kempegowda International Airport.

A big seizure was effected at the FPO on Thursday where MDMA (3,4-Methylenedioxymethamphetamine, commonly known as Molly or Ecstasy) pills, weighing 2.345 kg, were recovered from a foot massager which had arrived from a fictitious city in France to a fictitious name and address in Bengaluru. The seized MDMA pills are valued at Rs 1.2 crore in the international market.

This is the first time that drugs have been sent through a foot massager through the Post Office. A similar incident was reported in the cargo section of the airport three months ago, an official said.

A senior Customs official told The New Indian Express that the details on the parcel raised suspicion.

"The drug was packaged in a foot massager box with the heading 'Foot Massaging Machine'. But the value of the product was shown as $5. We sensed something was amiss and suspected it to have contraband material. An X-ray scan showed only the outer casing of the foot massager," the official said.

"We dismantled the massager and found that it had packets of the drug concealed inside. The consignment was from 'Villa Rancy' city in France to a person named 'Dan' in Bengaluru, both of which are fictitious," another official said. P5

Cities beyond Bengaluru to get on the digital superhighway

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH the Covid-19 pandemic triggering the new normal of 'work from home' or 'work from anywhere', the State Government is looking at effectively leveraging and accessing talent and skill available across Karnataka with focus on expanding the digital footprint in cities other than Bengaluru.

The government on Thursday rolled out an ambitious initiative, 'Beyond Bengaluru', with focus on building innovation and a technology ecosystem outside Bengaluru. Deputy Chief Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, who is also the Minister of Electronics, IT, BT, and S&T, on Thursday inaugurated 'Beyond Bengaluru' as part of Bengaluru Tech Summit 2020 (November 19-21), saying this measure was aimed at enhancing the growth of IT/ITeS, Business Processing Outsourcing (BPO), Electronic System Design Manufacturing (ESDM) and telecom sector industries located in Mysuru, Mangaluru, Hubbali, Dharwad, Shivamogga, Belagavi and Kalaburagi cities.

At present, other areas outside Bengaluru are contributing just 5 per cent of the total revenue of the industry and this needs to be increased significantly to achieve Karnataka's target of becoming a trillion-dollar digital economy by 2025.

Dr E V Ramana Reddy, Additional Chief Secretary, Department of Electronics, IT, BT and S&T, said, "For enhanced ecosystem growth, it is important that we look at infrastructure development, market access, ecosystem engagement and talent development in cities other than Bengaluru. Furthermore, it is increasingly important that we implement necessary steps to support and promote innovation, growth and development in these cities."

The government is considering various incentives and offerings to give a major push for the 'Beyond Bengaluru' initiative to take root in areas outside of Zone 4 (areas categorised as industrially developed under classification of zones in Karnataka for the purpose of incentives and concessions). New Year's Eve revelry may be banned on MG Rd

Palike chief says as Covid numbers have just started to dip, we shouldn't take chance

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

MG Road and Brigade Road, which are known for their New Year's Eve celebrations, won't see the fanfare this year. The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has decided to recommend to the state government to ban celebrations on the streets this year, as Covid cases are just starting to reduce now.

Palike Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad on Thursday said things could just get worse if crowds gathered on MG Road and Brigade Road.

He said that as large crowds usually gather on New Year's Eve, it is not possible to ensure social distancing and check if everyone is wearing masks. "Covid cases are reducing now and all measures should be taken to ensure that there is no rise at this point of time. Restrictions were put in place for Ganesha Chaturthi, Rajyotsava and Diwali celebrations too. It would be good if the celebrations this year are called off and instead people welcome the New Year at home or at small gatherings. My opinion will be given to the government," he added.

BBMP Administrator Gaurav Gupta said the matter will also be discussed with the health department.

"As there is still some time for December 31, we will take a final decision after looking at the number of cases," he added.

Police Commissioner Kamal Pant said the police department will implement whatever the state government decides. "I think it's too early to decide it as the pandemic's scenario is changing very fast. We will wait for the orders from the government and make preparations accordingly," he added.

However, some senior police, health and BBMP officials opine that the celebrations should not be allowed. "Despite strict orders on wearing masks, many still don't follow the norms. Many tourist places are witnessing large gatherings and the fear among local administration is rising. Health experts have pointed out that with the winter approaching, cases will rise. It is ideal that no such activity is allowed," said a police official.

BDA officials forge papers, suspended

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) has suspended two staffers, one on a serious criminal charge which has caused losses to the organisation, and another for indulging in the malpractice of forging exam documents to advance his career.

B Venkatramanappa in the Site Allotment section and M Mari Gowda, a Senior Divisional Assistant in the Accounts section, stand suspended since November 4 and separate inquiries are under way, BDA Commissioner H R Mahadev told TNIE.

Venkatramanappa has 9 charges against him spread over a period of time. He has caused a loss of at least ₹3 crore to BDA. According to a senior BDA official, he was booked earlier for managing to get sites earmarked for the economically weaker category in JP Nagar 8th Stage in the names of his family members in July 2018. "He ensured sites in the names of his wife, brother, brother's wife and co-brother's wife. We received a tip off and found them to be true. He was suspended but using political influence, he managed to get it revoked."

The latest charges for which he has been suspended are under pricing two BDA sites, one at Sir M Visvesvaraya Layout and another in Harohalli area, he said. "We received a tip-off only last week though he had indulged in the malpractice in April 2017. Being in the Site Allotment section, he managed to create fake documents and sold a 30x40 sq ft site at just 40% of the value to another buyer. Instead of the BDA fixed price of ₹11,840 per sqft, he sold them for ₹29,600 per sqft and pocketed money from the buyer." Another site in Nandini Layout (100x80 sq ft) was sold at a throwaway price of ₹17 lakh when its actual cost was ₹1.5 crore.

He has finally been caught for forging documents. "We got a tip-off that the documents he submitted in 2008 to get promoted from Second Divisional Assistant to First Divisional Assistant were fake. The document on examination reveals it had been overwritten using a whitener. We checked with KPSC and learnt he had not cleared the exam," he said.

KANNADIGA HOSPITALITY

KSTDC takes over Karnataka Bhavan in New Delhi

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC) on Wednesday took charge of operations and management of Karnataka Bhavan-3 in South-X in Delhi.

That is not all, the rates of stay in this Karnataka Bhavan are cheaper than at any KSTDC property in Karnataka, including the recently acquired Kumara Krupa Guest House (KKGH).

After tasting success in the trial project of handling a government-based property for tourism and for government guests for a year in Bengaluru's KKGH, the government and the Department of Personnel and Administrative Services (DPAR) has given the Karnataka Bhavan-3 to KSTDC. This becomes the first government-owned property that KSTDC is managing outside Karnataka.

KSTDC Managing Director, Kumar Pushkar told TNIE that after a lot of meetings, discussions and assessment of progress and works on KKGH, on the recommendation of the chief secretary and the state government, the DPAR agreed to hand it over to KSTDC.

The tariff per person per day is ₹1,000. To ensure good hospitality management and to give it the 'Kannadiga' touch, KSTDC has deployed the best of staff from across the state. Bookings for guests will be done through the DPAR portal, but the KSTDC is in talks with its counterparts to link to their portal, so that online bookings can be eased out.

While only a portion of 180 rooms in KKGH have been opened for tourists and the rest are reserved for VIPs and state guests, in Karnataka Bhavan, only three of of 37 rooms are reserved for other purposes and the rest are open to the public.

Pushkar said the operations and management will be similar to KKGH. In case of KKGH, the KSTDC has a year-long lease agreement with DPAR, wherein the income will go to the Bhavan, while the expenses incurred by KSTDC will be reimbursed by the government.

The restaurant of Karnataka Bhavan-3 where authentic food from Karnataka will be served, will also be open to diners. The administration of the other two Karnataka Bhavan's in Delhi continue to be with DPAR. The KSTDC is in talks with the government to acquire the, too. However, the final decision will be taken based on the feedback and profits earned.

RELIGIOUS TOUR BUSES ARE BACK

Bengaluru: KSTDC has revived its religious tour packages from Thursday. While it had started its tourism activities, religious tours had been put on hold. According to an official release, it has resumed services to Tirupati, Dharmasthala, Kolur and Hampi in AC Delux buses. Passengers will be allowed entry into the buses only if they are wearing mask and are also after they reach the destination, KSTDC officials said. The one way fare to Tirupati is ₹400 and ₹500 to Kollur. The buses will leave Bengaluru at 9pm. The one way fare Dharmasthala and Hampi is ₹ 400 and ₹ 500 and the buses will leave at 10. ENS

WHAT TO EXPECT

- To ensure good hospitality management and to give it the 'Kannadiga' touch, KSTDC has deployed the best of staff from across the state
- Bookings will be done through the DPAR portal
- Tariff: ₹1,000 per person /day
- A portion of 180 rooms have been opened for tourists and the rest are reserved for VIPs and state guests

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

13th November: It's a Libran day, without a doubt. There are certain rules which come along with this sign, such as the need to see other people's point of view. It's difficult to listen to those we disagree with, and even more difficult to understand what they do the things they do. But the result is a better world for all of us.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Relatively serious decisions should be considered, but not necessarily taken. You are right in seeing this as a time for meditation on the issues rather than definite concrete action. Your circumstances are changing, and you may want to wait until things have settled down.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Think very carefully about your long-term hopes and wishes, and make sound and sensible plans to get what you want. It's a day to listen to advice, read instructions, and generally pay heed to people who know what they're talking about. They, in their turn, may find that your ideas are a lot more creative than they realised.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Today's lunar patterns offer you all the chances you need to deal with routine chores and tasks. This may sound rather dull, but get as much as you can under your belt today and you'll thank your good sense at the weekend. By the way, if you want to slip out of an obligation, next week could give you the chance.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Mercury's relationship with Venus favours sensible people doing sensible things in sensible ways. It also enables you to do the practical work necessary to get your dreams off the drawing board. First of all, though, you'll have to pay the costs, and these could be greater than expected.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you enjoy intrigue and behind-the-scenes manipulation, as we all do to some degree or another, you may do your best now. There is much that you can do to help other people without them knowing about it. I'm sure you'll get your thanks in a few days' time.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You have refused to buckle under the strain, and all credit to you for your resolve and resilience. Personally, and professionally, the world is your oyster, so you may approach the immediate future with great confidence. If you still have any doubts, consult the experts one last time.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Your stars are generally optimistic and advantageous, so if you are anxious to get off the treadmill at work, now would seem to be a good time to do it. Find ways to lighten up! Over the next few days, you will be free to question your professional priorities – with positive results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You are much too sensible to blame the stars for anything that goes wrong. Yet now that the Moon is gracing you with its benevolent rays you must realise that the celestial configuration shares some responsibility for your major achievements.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
There's definitely an undercurrent in the air today. You're never happy when emotions get intense and feelings run high, and that is just what is likely to happen. You'll probably be left in the dark regarding a number of significant questions - just for now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Your financial affairs certainly look set to prosper. Bear in mind the following general principles: luxuries are better buys than necessities and pleasure will be more profitable than pain. In love, it's time to mend fences and heal a rift. Be generous in victory!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Anyone who tells you that you're incompetent, inefficient and irresponsible is likely to be sent away with a flea in their ear. And quite right, too. Why should people pick on you just because you have your own way of doing things? There's one answer: none!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Idealistic regions of your chart are strong, which means that travel plans, new projects, adventures and anything which will generally express your inner spirit and enhance your public reputation are heartily to be encouraged. With a little more support there is nothing you can't achieve.

Can politicians get away with paying fine: High Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

The Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed the State Government to make its stand clear on whether it will prosecute political leaders or allow them to get away with mere payment of fine for violation of mask and social distancing regulations.

Questioning the state why it has not set criminal law into motion against those leaders who have admitted to the violations by paying fine, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty directed the government to clear its stand on November 19, the next date of hearing.

While submitting the details of 18 Non-Cognisable Reports (NCRs) registered on November 5, the government informed the court that Opposition leader Siddaramaiah, MPs D K Suresh, Tejasvi Surya, actor Darshan were among 684 persons on whom it has imposed fine of Rs 250 each for violation of regulations during campaigning for the RR Nagar bypoll and other political rallies.

Pointing out to the rally on September 20, in which Tejasvi Surya participated , the bench said that fines have been collected from a few persons though photographs shows that a large number of people had violated the regulations.

Referring to the regulations issued under the Karnataka Epidemics Diseases Act by the State Executive Committee, the bench noted that these leaders have admitted to the violation by paying fine and it will have serious consequences. Therefore, the state should tell whether it will prosecute them for the offences punishable under Section 5(4) of the Epidemic Diseases Act, it added.

Anybody disobeying the regulations can be punished with not less than three months imprisonment and up to 5 years in addition to a fine ranging from Rs 50,000 to Rs 2 lakh. The offences are non-bailable and cannot be compounded.

The bench also made it clear that police should take immediate action against violators during rallies held with the permission of the police.

Marshals not paid for two months

To a query, the counsel for BBMP informed the court that 198 Marshals were not paid salaries for the months of September and October.

Terming this is a shocking, the bench said that they are playing a pivotal role even during the pandemic. Therefore, the BBMP Administrator should give in writing that salaries will be paid immediately and take steps to ensure no delay in future.

The bench also directed the BBMP to submit data of collection of fine during special drive conducted in Bengaluru for not wearing masks and maintaining social distance.

Acute kidney injury among Covid +ves

Even those without any issues could develop kidney diseases, say city nephrologists

IFFATH FATHIMA @Bengaluru

ABOUT one in every three Covid-19 patients is being diagnosed with Acute Kidney Injury (AKI), according to Bengaluru doctors. Reports from China and New York too state that around 30 per cent of all Covid patients developed moderate to severe kidney injury.

Explaining how Covid-19 damages the kidneys, Dr Jagadish Hiremath, CEO, Ace Suhas Hospital, said, "Kidney cells have receptors that enable the new coronavirus to attach to them, invade and make copies of itself, potentially damaging these tissues. The virus can cause small clots in the bloodstream, which can clog small blood vessels in the kidney and impair its functioning. Also, the cytokine storms can destroy kidney tissues."

Dr Dr Suri Raju V, chief urologist and MD, Regal Multi-Speciality Hospital, said that the patients admitted to ICUs are more likely to develop AKI. Long-term effects of Covid-19 on the kidneys are still unknown and is a cause of concern, he added.

"Many nephrologists fear that Covid can cause long-term effects on the functioning of kidneys. Some people, who already have a chronic kidney disease, may experience a bigger setback. More worryingly, those who did not have any issues may develop chronic kidney diseases. After recovery, patients should follow up with doctors to see if their kidneys are functioning normally," he said.

Dr Prakash G K, senior consultant, Nephrology, Manipal Hospitals, Malleswaram, said, "A higher incidence of AKI and also mortality has been noticed among Covid patients. Many such cases are among the elderly, who have comorbidities and require ventilation. A patient develops AKI when the kidneys stop working suddenly, within two days or less. AKI progresses through three stages and the last stage requires dialysis. At our Malleswaram centre, we have seen over 10-15 per cent of patients developing kidney issues. Poor hydration and drug intake during Covid also results in kidney failure."

High quality PHCs to be set up in districts

Bengaluru: Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Thursday said that new improved Primary Health Care Centres will be set up in the state with the help of World Bank which will be functioning 24x7. During a meeting with doctors and MLAs at Vidhana Soudha, it was discussed that there is a need to improve the quality of PHCs. Dr Sudhakar said, "There are 2,300 PHCs in the state presently. Policy says that one PHC is required for every 30,000 people. But some districts are lagging in this. More PHCs will be set up with the help of world bank and existing PHCs. Necessary policy changes will be made to implement the project." ENS

Mysuru Model shared with officials of 25 dists

KARTHIK K K @Mysuru

OVER 85 representatives from 25 districts of the state were made familiar with the 'Mysuru Model' of handling Covid for effective and efficient management of the virus during a capsule course held in the city over the last four days. To share the techniques used by them with officials of other districts amid the talk of the second wave post-Deepavali festivities, a four-day capsule course was held at the Covid-19 War Room here. Officials were trained in line list integration and bed management.

These representatives underwent the training programme every day which also focused on setting up a war room in their respective district to handle the situation effectively.

Mysuru officials shared their knowledge in setting up war rooms, operating it, utilising man power, triaging and various other processes. Nodal officer of Covid War Room, Mysuru Lt Col Dr Ashok S U said, "The course mainly focused on the line list app integration with 'Apthamitra'.

Munirathna meets 'leader of rebels' Jarkiholi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NEWLY-elected BJP legislator from Rajarajeshwari Nagar N Munirathna on Thursday met Water Resources Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi.

Fresh from his landslide victory, Munirathna called on Jarkiholi, the primary hook between him and the BJP leadership who facilitated the former's jump from the Congress to the saffron party in 2019.

The meeting adds strength to Jarkiholi's conscious effort to position himself as a leader with clout among the new entrants to the BJP. Whether hosting a luncheon with Union Minister for Parliamentary Affairs and Coal Pralhad Joshi or huddling of MLAs from the Mumbai-Karnataka region or cabinet hopefuls airing their aspirations every now and then, Jarkiholi has been deliberately crafting an image of being the 'go-to' person.

Even in New Delhi, Jarkiholi is said to be attempting to get a connect with the BJP central leadership through his personal friendship with former Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis.

Women safety a priority, app gets the nod

Artificial Intelligence and Robotics Tech Park approved at a cost of Rs 60 cr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

UNDER the Nirbhaya project, the Karnataka cabinet on Thursday approved the development of a safety app for women travelling in KSRTC buses. The app will include a panic button, GPS tracking system for buses, detailed information on bus schedules and information on 500 bus stops across the state, said Law and Parliamentary Affairs minister JC Madhuswamy.

At the cost of Rs 40 crore approved by the Union government on a 60:40 sharing basis under the project, the cabinet also gave a go-ahead to install CCTV cameras in some 5000 buses apart from training 3,000 women staff of KSRTC in self-defence. "The app is aimed at ensuring the safety of women travelling in KSRTC buses. Any private participation will be bound to protocols on data sharing," he added.

The cabinet also approved setting up of an Artificial Intelligence and Robotics Tech Park under the public-private partnership (PPP) model at a cost of Rs 60 crore.

A cabinet sub-committee headed by Forest Minister Anand Singh has been approved by Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa to give recommendations to the union government on the implementation of Dr Kasturirangan report on deemed areas surrounding national parks and wildlife sanctuaries as eco-sensitive zones. An additional grant of Rs 18.75 crore has been approved by the cabinet for the development of Church Street in Bengaluru under Tendersure. To encourage payment of dues, the cabinet also approved a rebate on 50 per cent on interest by defaulters holding BDA civic amenity sites.

Rs 65.28 crore will be invested in exploration for iron ore in Karnataka. The cabinet has chosen government of India agencies KIOCL and MECL for the purpose.

The cabinet also decided to merge more than two dozen gram panchayats and upgrade them to town panchayats and municipal councils. The move comes ahead of the pending gram panchayat elections. A host of developmental activities, including irrigation projects running into crores, received administrative approvals by the cabinet. A ten gunta plot was approved for the construction of a BJP office in Belagavi.

Expansion delayed, may happen post Nov 20

BANSY KALAPPA
@ Bengaluru

THOUGH Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa had promised cabinet expansion immediately after the bypolls, the exercise is likely to be delayed till November 20. This is because party central leaders are not available because of government formation in Bihar and Deepavali, party insiders said.

"The exercise cannot be taken up until the central leadership clears it. Yediyurappa, on his part, has sought appointments with Union Home Minister Amit Shah and other central leaders. But they too cannot give time till November 20. Remember, Bihar comes first," said a party source.

Meanwhile, two ministerial berth aspirants — MLCs R Shankar and H Vishwanath — returned from Delhi on Wednesday unable to meet Amit Shah. Vishwanath later met minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, the leader of the rebel group that toppled the previous Congress-JDS coalition government and allowed the BJP to come to power. Newly elected RR Nagar MLA N Munirathna too met Jarkiholi. The rebels are trying to put pressure on the ruling party to come good on the promise of inducting all the rebels into the cabinet, political observers said.

But the chief minster's hands are tied as the central leadership nod is mandatory for the cabinet expansion.

Last time too, Yediyurappa did not get the nod during his visit to Delhi, they pointed out.

Apart from Munirathna and the three MLCs, who are new entrants to the party, leaders from the BJP's old guard, including Umesh Katti, are eager to be included.

Berth for Preetham?

B R UDAYA KUMAR @ Hassan

THE Sira bypoll, which saw a landslide victory for BJP candidate Dr Rajesh Gowda, may give a boost to the career of Hassan BJP MLA Preetam J Gowda as he is likely to be inducted into the cabinet in place of former Tourism Minister C T Ravi, who has been appointed party national general secretary.

Preetam, who along with party state vice-president B Y Vijayendra played a crucial role in achieving historic victories for BJP candidates in Sira as well as KR Pet bypolls, may get a cabinet berth under the district and Vokkaliga quota.

Vijayendra, who is the son of Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, is said to be lobbying for Preetam. The CM feels that Preetam has the capacity to take on JDS leaders and strengthen the party in the home turf of JDS supremo H D Deve Gowda if given the additional responsibility, party sources said.

It is said that the 39-year-old MLA is known for his trouble-shooting skills within the party and has taken party workers into confidence.

Preetam told TNIE that he never lobbied for a ministerial berth. "The CM is supporting me by sanctioning new development works. I will abide by his directions," he added.

Why is Basavakalyan going to polls?

Byelection to Basavakalyan is necessitated following the death of B Narayana Rao, MLA, due to Covid-19 in October.

BYPOLL NOT ANNOUNCED YET, BUT BIG 3 BUSY IN BASAVAKALYAN

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI
@Kalaburagi

ANTICIPATING the announcement of the byelections to Basavakalyan Assembly Constituency of Bidar district any time, all the major political parties have begun the exercise of selection of suitable candidates.

Byelection to Basavakalyan is necessitated following the death of B Narayana Rao, MLA, due to Covid-19 in October.

Inspired by the wins in all six seats (4 Council and 2 Assembly), the Bharatiya Janata Party has entrusted the task of selection of the candidate to B Y Vijayendra, son of Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa and State party vice president. Vijayendra played a major role in the victory of BJP candidate in the bye-lections to Sira Assembly constituency, of which the results were announced on Tuesday.

Vijayendra will visit Basavakalyan on Friday to elicit the opinion of ground level party workers of Basavakalyan and Bidar district party leaders. According to sources, former MLA Mallikarjun Khuba and Sanjay Patawari, who contested unsuccessfully from Basavakalyan earlier, were trying hard to get the ticket this time. Former minister late Gurupadappa Nagamarapally's son Suryakant Nagamarapally is also said to be putting pressure on BJP leadership to give him a chance.

As for the Congress, sources said the party is considering fielding late Narayana Rao's wife Mallamma or his son Goutam for sympathy votes. It is said that MLC Vijay Singh and former president of Congress Party Basavaraj Bulla have also thrown their hat.

KPCC president D K Shivakumar has constituted a committee headed by state party working president Eshwar Khandre on Thursday to suggest names of suitable candidates. The committee comprises former ministers Rajashekhar Patil, Sharanaprakash Patil and Priyank Khandre, Bidar MLA Rahim Khan and former MLA B R Patil.

Janata Dal too has been busy doing groundwork. It has already received applications from at least eight aspirants.

Deputy leader of JDS in the State Legislative Assembly Bandeppa Kashempur said the party might not contact senior leader P G R Sindhia this time.

Booster shot: FKCCI and small units welcome Centre's stimulus

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Federation of Karnataka Chamber of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI) and Karnataka Small Scale Industries Association (KASSIA) have welcomed the 'Atmanirbhar Package 3.0' announced by Finance Minister Niramala Sitharaman.

The package covers almost all sectors needing the helping hand of the government during the Covid-19 crisis, said Perikal M Sundar, president, FKCCI.

"It is a step towards enhancing ease of doing business. The number of measures announced on Thursday will further boost manufacturing, generate employment, improve competitiveness and make India a preferred investment destination," he said and added that Atmanirbhar Bharat Rozgar Yojana would generate employment opportunities.

KASSIA president K B Arasappa said they are happy that the government realised the need for the stimulus in the wake of economic decline manifesting in a precipitous fall in private consumption and investment in the economy. The various measures announced by the Finance Minister, such as the EPF benefits for companies taking new employees by way of 24 per cent EPF contribution by the government, credit guarantee support for stressed sectors, extension of the emergency credit line scheme until March 2021 and performance-linked incentives, should hopefully pull the economy out of the woods, he said in a statement.

KPCC prez surprised by big margin of defeat

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru/Chitradurga

KPCC president DK Shivakumar on Thursday said he will accept the people's mandate in Rajarajeshwari Nagar and Sira Assembly bypolls, but expressed surprise over the big margin of defeat

He said the party will take up a booth-wise study of results in both constituencies and also seek the assistance of experts to analyse the results.

Shivakumar hit out at BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel for alleging that the Congress leader has kept DJ Halli riots accused and former Bengaluru Mayor Sampath Raj in a hideout. "If I have hidden him, why have they not arrested me," he asked.

He ridiculed Kateel's statement that Congress won't get power for 10 years in the state.

Reacting to Kateel's statement that former chief minister Siddaramaiah defeated Congress candidate H Kusuma at Rajarajeshwari Nagar and Shivakumar ensured the loss of party candidate T B Jayachandra at Sira, Siddaramaiah said that Kateel's statements are immature and should not be commented on.

He said, "When we were in power, we also won all the bypolls. Where was Kateel then?"

The government has misused the administrative machinery to win the bypolls and it is not a referendum against Congress, he added.

On Minister K S Eshwarappa's statement that Siddaramaiah was ineligible to become chief minister, the former CM said Eshwarappa is unfit to be a minister.

A day in a village, agri minister to address farmer issues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AGRICULTURE Minister B C Patil will start Grama Vaastaya, or the village stay programme, from November 14, spending an entire day with farmers, discussing their problems, and finding solutions to them. He will do it twice a month and at two different districts.

Patil told The New Indian Express that he has chosen Madavina Kodi village in Mandya for his first village stay on November 14 (Saturday), marking his birthday. Asked why Mandya, he said it is close to his heart. "My movie Kaurava was shot in Mandya and it made me popular. Even today, people in Mandya call me Kaurava. Also, as per data, Mandya has recorded a high number of farmer suicides," said the actor-turned-politician.

Patil said that he wanted to start the programme from April, but had to delay it because of the Covid pandemic.

Explaining the concept, he said it's a day with farmers where the entire agriculture department will be with him at that village to address farmer issues. As hundreds of villagers are expected to attend the programme, all Covid-related precautions will be taken, including social distancing. "I will also distribute masks," he said.

Progressive farmers too will be invited to give lectures to local farmers, who can adopt best practices. "I am from north Karnataka and Mandya people are known for their ragi mudde. To let them taste the cuisine of our region, we will distribute 2,500 jowar rotis to them," he added

Patil said that he will submit a comprehensive memorandum to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa to bring changes in farmers' lives.

Earlier, Patil visited all the 30 districts where he focused on low-quality seeds. After his visits, agriculture department officials along with local police cracked down on traders and seized large quantities of poor quality seeds that were affecting farmer produce.

Byadarahalli police arrested a man who allegedly stole ₹50 lakh from an ATM. The accused is identified as Vinay Jogi, a staffer at a cash management firm, who used to load cash into ATMs. On August 24, he allegedly stole ₹30 lakh from the ATM at Gollarahalli. It is also found that he has stolen ₹20 lakh more on many occasions.

ED attaches assets of former banker for fraud

Agency initiated investigation under PMLA on the basis of an FIR registered at Ashok Nagar police station

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has issued a provisional attachment (PA) order under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, attaching assets worth ₹1.30 crore in a case related to siphoning off the funds of Karnataka State Handicraft Development Corporation Limited (KSHDCL).

"The attached immovable assets are in the form of land and building, which are in the name of B Y Srinivas, former senior manager, Vijaya Bank, Bengaluru, and movable assets in the form of bank balance in the bank accounts of H S Nagalingaswamy, Srinivas, Ashwin Tours & Travels and PNP Enterprises," the ED has stated.

The ED had initiated investigation under the PMLA on the basis of an FIR registered at Ashok Nagar police station, Bengaluru City, against G C Kishor Kumar, former general manager, KSHDCL, and others for siphoning off the funds of KSHDCL, which is a State government undertaking.

"The investigation has revealed that Nagalingaswamy and his associates had generated proceeds of crime to the extent of ₹16.67 crore between December 17, 2016 and October 17, 2018 by transferring to a fake bank account with the State Bank of India, Bengaluru City Branch, in the name of 'Managing Director, KSHDCL' by using forged documents. Investigation also revealed that the amounts were moved out of the bank accounts of KSHDCL with Vijaya Bank to the fraudulent bank account held with the SBI. The amount was further diverted into the bank accounts of certain entities such as Fralk Infotainment, PNP Enterprises and in the bank account of one person by the name of D Narasaiah, from where the same was withdrawn and utilized by Nagalingaswamy and their associates for their benefits," ED stated.

NCB nabs interstate drug peddlers, seizes hash oil worth ₹25L

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB), Bengaluru zone, has busted an interstate gang of drug traffickers and seized 3kg of hash oil worth over Rs 25 lakh from them. On credible information on November 9, the NCB intercepted a vehicle bearing Kerala registration at Devanahalli toll gate and seized the hash oil, which was packed in brown colour packets and concealed under the driver's seat.

"The vehicle was coming from Visakhapatnam and was going to Kerala via Bengaluru. There were two passengers -- Sarang K K and Aneesh P D -- inside the vehicle and Renjith R S was driving the car, which is also registered in his name. During preliminary inquiry, Renjith informed the NCB that the hashish oil was sourced from Visakhapatnam for personal use and for sale in Bengaluru and Kerala," said Amit Ghawate, NCB, Bengaluru zonal director.

The NCB has arrested Renjith, Sarang and Aneesh under the Narcotic Drugs & Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act, 1985.

According to the NCB, a Kerala-based syndicate has been found to be active in trafficking of hash/hash oil from Andhra Pradesh to Bengaluru and Kerala. From Kerala the narcotic drug is smuggled to Maldives, Sri Lanka and West Asia.

One gram of hash oil is consumed by five persons at a time. It is highly addictive and gives a sense of euphoria. Hash oil is a concentrated cannabis extract that can be smoked, vaped, eaten, or rubbed onto the skin. The use of hash oil is sometimes called 'dabbing' or 'burning'. Hash oil comes from cannabis plants and contains THC (delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol), the same active ingredient as other marijuana products. It is a narcotic drug and is banned under the NDPS Act.

Initiative launched against child beggary

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

The Karnataka State Commission for Protection of Child Rights (KSCPCR) on Thursday launched a child beggary rescue campaign in the City. This initiative is in collaboration with the Karnataka State Legal Services Authority (KSLSA), the police department, Integrated Child Protection Scheme (ICPS), UNICEF and some non-governmental organisations (NGOs), which are working for rescue and rehabilitation of Children in Need of Care and Protection (CNCP).

"The programme, 'A Firm Step Towards Eradicating Child Beggary', is to ensure that children are not forced into beggary, and instead, are rescued and rehabilitated," said KSCPCR chairperson Dr Anthony Sebastian.

There is no comprehensive data on the number of child beggars in the City because they are a floating population with majority of them migrating to Bengaluru with their families from outside the City and State. Many of them are runaway children and a large chunk is also trapped into begging by child traffickers.

The Commission can receive complaints and take suitable action on cases related to infringement/violation of child rights and it can also take action by registering complaints suo motu. "The Special Juvenile Police Units and the NGOs have been assigned to ensure that no child is found begging on the streets," said Dr Sebastian.

"There needs to be widespread awareness in society on child beggary. We plan to implement the programme through various activities," said Dr Sebastian.

Firm accused of cheating investors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN yet another case of financial fraud, Aishwarya Lakshmi Chits Pvt Ltd, located in Sir MV Layout, has allegedly cheated its investors of their deposits after promising 2.5 per cent returns on their investments. Several investors have lodged complaints with the Jnana Bharati police.

Deputy Commissioner of Police (West) Sanjeev Patil said the process of identifying investors and receiving complaints was on. "Several investors have complained against the chit company. I appeal to the investors who have been cheated to lodge a complaint. The accused had allegedly promised them high returns saying they will invest the money in real estate. Since March, they have allegedly stopped paying interest citing lockdown as the reason, and are not responding to the investors. We have registered an FIR against nine people," he said.

The police have booked Patel Anand, managing director of the firm, his wife and director of the firm Gangambike, their daughters Geetha and Pushpa, Gangambike's brother Umashankar, all three board members, and four other employees. Anand is said to be an employee of a software company on Hosur Road and was running the financial firm from the past few years.

The paper will cover potential action points for promoting cities beyond Bengaluru by proposing initiatives to develop a technology ecosystem," the DyCM said.

Biggest drug haul at FPO after it shifted to new venue

"IT remains unclear how they hoped to collect the parcel. We have come across many such cases in the past and are closing in on the intended recipient," the official added. This is the biggest seizure made in the FPO after it shifted to its new location nearly a year ago. It used to function within the premises of the GPO earlier.

An official release from the City Customs Commissionerate said the drugs have been seized under the NDPS Act, 1985, and the Customs Act, 1962.

Contract staffers seek release of pending pay

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka State Health and Medical Education Department Contractual and Outsourced Employees' Association (KSHCOEA), which was on strike from September 24 to October 8 over a range of demands, claimed that they have still not received salaries during this period, even after former Health Minister B Sriramulu had stated that their payments would be released.

The KSHCOEA members seek solution to 14 demands which have been pending for a long time. These include job security, payment of equal wages on par with permanent health staffers, bonuses, accident insurance, Covid financial package, Covid incentives, a comprehensive HR policy, and also for salaries to not be cut for that period when the workers went on strike. "Former Health Minister B Sriramulu had accepted our demands and we called off our strike. However, those demands are yet to be fulfilled," said KSHCOEA president Vishwaradhya H Y.

'Will punish fire mishap culprits'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

HEALTH Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Thursday visited a chemical factory godown in New Guddadahalli where a fire accident occurred. He said action will be initiated against the culprits after the investigation.

"Large quantities of chemicals were stored at the godown without licence. Alcohol-based chemicals were also there. Permission from Drugs Controller is mandatory to store sanitisers," he said, adding that the government will take action, no matter how big the company is. "Action will also be initiated against the erring officials, if found guilty," he added.

TS HC DIRECTS GOVT TO BAN CRACKERS

Instructs it to clamp down on shops selling firecrackers

Children flock to a stall to buy crackers after sales started in Tirupati on Thursday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

THE Telangana High Court on Thursday directed the state government to immediately ban the sale and use of fireworks by the people and organizations across the state during this Diwali season.

Further, the court directed the state to forthwith clampdown and close the shops selling firecrackers. The bench also directed the state to make an appeal to the people through print and electronic media asking them to refrain from bursting firecrackers in order to prevent any further deterioration in air quality.

"Presently, the Nation and the state are struggling with Covid-19 pandemic. Much as the festivals may be important and may serve social purpose, nonetheless, the people's lives are the most important. It is the bounden duty of the state to ensure that the lives of the people are protected and promoted in a meaningful way. Since the government has not declared any ban on use of fireworks so far, but considering the facts that the lives of people need to be protected and that uncontrolled and untrammeled use of fireworks may jeopardize the lives of many, the Court directs the state to immediately impose ban on sale and use of fireworks", the division bench of the High Court observed and directed the state to submit a report before it informing about the steps taken in implementing the said court directions by November 19.

The bench comprising Chief Justice Raghvendra Singh Chauhan and Justice B Vijaysen Reddy passed this order through video conference in the PIL filed by advocate P Indra Prakash seeking directions to the state government to impose complete ban on sale and use of fireworks by the people during Diwali festival season.

Green crackers, what are they? Ban ineffective: K'taka HC tells state govt

Bengaluru: The state government order banning the sale and use of firecrackers, except green crackers, is ineffective, as it has not specified what "green crackers" are, the Karnataka High Court said on Thursday. A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty passed the order while adjourning to Friday the hearing of a PIL filed by A S Vishnu Bharath, a 68-years-old from Jayanagar in the city, seeking a ban on all kinds of crackers, as the government sought time to submit its response. The bench observed that the government should have taken stringent steps as heightened air pollution due to busting of crackers may trigger a spike in Covid cases. The bench said that the government placed two orders, dated November 6 and 10, banning bursting of firecrackers, except the green variety, between 8 pm and 10 pm. But it does not specify what the meaning of green crackers is. Prima facie, it appears that the orders are ineffective, the bench added.

TN defers reopening of schools for now

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

TAMIL Nadu on Thursday, withdrew its decision to reopen schools and colleges on November 16, following a Statewide public consultation on the matter, which revealed widespread fear of a second wave of Covid infection. A statement from the Department of Information and Public Relations said that the new date for reopening of schools would be announced later depending on the prevailing situation in the State.

The statement said that the State had sought views of the college managements and universities, and based on the feedback received, and as per the guidelines issued by the University Grants Commission (UGC), colleges and universities can reopen on December 2. The reopening would apply only for research students and those in their final year of PG in science and technology courses.

Similarly, college hostels would also be opened on December 2, only for the above mentioned section of students, as long as colleges follow the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) to be issued later by the government. For other students, the statement said, a decision on reopening will be taken after December 2, and in the meanwhile, classes can continue in the online mode.

"During this festival season, people gather in large numbers in public places, and fail to adhere to standard Covid protocols. Besides, reports about a second wave of Covid are also coming from foreign countries. As such, it has become imperative to intensify measures for preventing the spread of the virus," said the official release.

Further, the government has also withdrawn the permission given for religious gatherings, social, political, entertainment, cultural and educational functions, and meetings related to these events, with not more than 100 participants from November 16. These gatherings will not be permitted until further orders.

Justify withdrawal of criminal cases against politicos: HC to govt

Bengaluru: The Karnataka High Court on Thursday asked the state government to justify the withdrawal of 570 criminal cases against ministers, MLAs/MLCs and their followers, from 2014 to May 2020. A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty was hearing public interest litigation filed by advocate Sudha Katwa. The petitioner contended that the prosecution department has to take a decision independently on such issues but the state governments are recommending to withdraw the criminal cases against ministers, MLAs and their supporters. The power under Section 321 of CrPC is being misused by the government all these years, she alleged. The bench ordered notice to the government and asked to file objections. The next hearing will be held on December 10. ENS

Arundhati Roy's book removed from syllabus

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Tirunelveli

FOLLOWING several complaints, including from members of the ABVP, the vice-chancellor of Manonmaniam Sundaranar University in Tirunelveli removed a book by author Arundhati Roy from the syllabus for postgraduate English course.

The book 'Walking with the Comrades' was being included in the third semester syllabus of MA English course in affiliated colleges of the university under Commonwealth Writing for the past three years. However, sources confirmed they received complaints, including from members of ABVP Dakshin Tamil Nadu, that the book supported Maoists.

A meeting presided over by Vice-Chancellor K Pitchumani on the syllabus decided to remove the book from the syllabus, replacing it with 'My Native Land: Essays on Nature' by naturalist Krishnan. On Thursday, Pitchumani was was unavailable for comment.

ABVP joint secretary C Vignesh stated that an ABVP national executive member raised concerns on the book a week ago. Last Friday, ABVP members submitted a petition to the Manonmaniam Sundaranar University vice-chancellor.

"Our concern is over students learning essays and novels which are against the country and in support of Maoists. This could affect the students' opinion of our country. There are many books, including those about Rabindranath Tagore and other leaders," said Vignesh. The members stated that the vice-chancellor promised to take action and on Wednesday confirmed the removal of the book.

NAVEEN REIGNS SUPREME IN FORTRESS ODISHA

The suspense over the Bihar Assembly election continued well past Tuesday midnight but in Odisha, where bypolls had been held in two Assembly segments, it was business as usual for Naveen Patnaik's BJD. The regional party won the two seats with its signature confidence. Fresh elections to Balasore and Tirtol were necessitated after the demise of the sitting legislators Madan Mohan Dutta (BJP) and Bishnu Charan Das (BJD) respectively. In both constituencies, their sons were fielded by the respective parties to cash in on the sympathy votes but Naveen's BJD ensured that there weren't any surprises. The Tirtol seat was won by a 41,000-plus margin by Bijaya Shankar Das whereas in Balasore, the BJD's Swarup Kumar Das, a first-timer, defeated the saffron party's Manas Kumar Dutta by over 13,000 votes. The BJD also improved its vote share to 52.36% in the two seats.

The Balasore victory has a quiet message—Naveen's election-winning formula remains unmatched. While the BJP swept the bypolls across Gujarat, UP, MP and even won the lone seat up for grabs in Telangana, signalling PM Narendra Modi's undiminished popularity, it failed to retain its seat in Balasore that comes under Union Minister Pratap Sarangi's Lok Sabha constituency.

However, the polls are not about the BJP and certainly not about the Congress, which managed to forfeit its deposit in Balasore and lost a considerable vote share across the two seats. It is about Naveen's invincibility as a leader and the respect he commands among the voters. In the last 20 years of his reign, he has not lost a general election. Only twice has his party been defeated in bypolls—Talasara (in 2006) and Laxmipur (in 2008), where the Congress retained the seats. Defying the Modi wave twice is no mean achievement but Naveen has shown that he is much more than a staggering election machine. It is his deeper understanding of the subtext of Odia culture and his style of propeople politics and governance that have given him the unsurpassable cult status he enjoys today. That's something the opposition parties have found hard to decode.

THE ILLEGAL SPICE ROUTE TO SRI LANKA

The Indian wonder spice, turmeric, is regularly being packed into gunny bags and smuggled into the island nation of Sri Lanka ever since the Gotabaya Rajapaksa government tightened restrictions of its import in the wake of the pandemic. After Rajapaksa assumed power late last year, he has been passing legislations aimed at fortifying the economy. His ban on the import of many spices, including turmeric, has been a step in that direction. The idea was to encourage domestic production and help farmers out of the debt crisis.

Sri Lanka produces 2,000 tonnes of turmeric a year, but the nationwide demand for the spice is close to 7,000 tonnes. Thousands of kilograms of the rhizome have been illegally routed through the sea from the Indian shores of Velankanni and Vedaranyam to Sethubavachatram and Dhanushkodi to meet the widening demand-supply gap. The new spice route extends from the large turmeric producing districts of Erode and Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu to Jaffna and Mannar, and is being managed by cartels. Despite alerts by the Coastal Security Group, there has been no respite. While the Sri Lankan government has announced that the maximum retail price of turmeric powder would be LKR 750 (about ₹295) a kg, it is being sold for more than five times the price, and in some areas, it has even shot up to LKR 4,000 to 5,000 a kg in the black market. According to a media report, the price of a kg of turmeric before the import ban was LKR 325 (around ₹136) with an import tax of LKR 102 (₹40). Despite these abnormal prices, the President has been adamant about not rescinding his decision on restricting imports, saying the difficulties would only be for a short period of time.

The biggest loser in this has been the Indian turmeric farmer. The middlemen have allegedly been involved in a nexus with their Sri Lankan counterparts, leaving the farmer with no choice in the pricing of the commodity that is now being bartered with gold in Sri Lanka! It is time the two governments discuss the possibility of reviving a formal and legal route for turmeric to heal the heartburn of farmers and buyers.

A relieved world welcomes America's return to global forums soon for concerted action on health and environment. But the approach by any nation must be participatory, not prescriptive

GLOBAL HEALTH WILL GET A BOOSTER SHOT

AMIT BANDRE

DR K SRINATH REDDY
Cardiologist, epidemiologist & President, Public Health Foundation of India

The election of Joe Biden as President of the United States of America, with Kamala Harris as his able Vice President, spells well for global health. After a turbulent period of fraught relations with the World Health Organization, President Trump had initiated withdrawal from the global health body. Hours before the election result was called, he signalled the start of formal proceedings for American withdrawal from the Paris accord on climate change. Both these will be reversed by the Biden administration, which will again warmly embrace global health and re-enter the global climate protection coalition.

Biden has been elected during an extraordinary period in history, when the world has been reeling under the unrelenting attack of a new virus. The US, with all its technological prowess and much-vaunted leadership in global health, has been the worst victim of the virus in terms of infected persons and lost lives. The American people became victims of wishful thinking of the current US administration that the virus will just 'go away' and the disdainful dismissal of science as a guide to public health policy. It will be good to see sanity restored, science respected and public health prioritised.

However, it would be unfair to view Biden just as a passive beneficiary of the Covid-19 crisis, lifted to the presidency by a wave of popular anger against the incumbent's mismanagement. He has other claims to positive leadership, having taken an unambiguous stand against racism, affirmed support for environmental protection and demonstrated respect for women along with commitment to gender equity. All of these matter to advancement of health—at individual, national and global levels. The one place where he has not reached as high is in his commitment to universal health coverage, where he is at some distance from the Bernie Sanders plan. The nature of US politics and the power of insurance and medical industries may prevent the new administration from venturing far in that direction, but it will be a victory nevertheless if it can protect Obamacare from being ripped apart.

Global health poses complex challenges in an interconnected and interdependent world. It is not just viruses that cross national boundaries. Tobacco, unhealthy ultra-processed foods and sugar sweetened beverages are transnationally marketed maladies and aggressively advertised addictions. Climate change accelerates a cascade of harmful health consequences, from extreme weather events and rampant spread of vector-borne diseases to adverse impacts on agriculture and food systems that threaten global nutrition and health security. Each threat to global health needs a global thrust to counter it. Shaken by the disruptions to global supply chains caused by Covid-19, countries will rightly pursue the path of greater self-reliance, but that must not veer them away from commitment to global collaboration. Certainly, vaccine nationalism will fly in the face of global solidarity.

Investment in global health, by high-income countries, is not a gesture of benevolent altruism. It is also a demonstration of enlightened self-interest. In an interconnected and interdependent world, shared vulnerability brings the world together. Indeed, global health drew impetus in the past three decades from the potential worldwide threats of bioterrorism, pandemics and antimicrobial resistance. With the global economy extensively and inseparably integrated, damage to population health in any country can have adverse impacts on labour and consumer markets, trade and travel, with rippling effects across the world. Global health provides a productive platform for scientific collaboration to address the complex challenges of our time and enables the synergy of creative minds from all continents to provide innovative solutions.

> While US isolationists shun the world, their globalist counterparts tend to impatiently press their preferred solutions on nations that have a varied context. Global solidarity is best established on the platform of mutual respect

Global health must, however, move beyond a fear of shared vulnerability to gain momentum from shared values. Health must be recognised as a human right, with a commitment to universal health coverage, poverty alleviation, gender equality and other Sustainable Development Goals. Shared commitment to global solidarity must be the path on which the world's health advances. All the determinants of health, within and beyond the sector, must be positively influenced to promote global health equity. Within this framework, intergenerational equity must receive high priority so that the rights of future generations to enjoy healthy lives on a healthy planet are not compromised by detrimental political, commercial and environmental actions that are presently taken at national or global levels.

Even as a relieved world welcomes America's return to the global forums for consultation and concerted action on vital health and environmental issues, the approach by any nation must be participatory and not prescriptive. While American isolationists shun the rest of the world, their globalist counterparts tend to impatiently press their preferred solutions on countries that have a varied context. Global solidarity is best established on the platform of mutual respect. Biden's healing message of respectful relations with all and conciliatory conduct towards the Americans who differ with him is the spirit with which global health must be steadily rebuilt after the damaging quake of the Trump administration.

SHAKTI WORSHIP AND SELFHOOD IN KASHMIR

SHONALEEKA KAUL
Associate Professor, Centre for Historical Studies, JNU

The Navratras have just gone by, celebrated virtually all over the country. But while Shakti worship is iconic in Bengal, and the more convivial forms associated with it, such as the garba dance, in Gujarat, few know that, historically, it is in Kashmir that the Goddess has been central to the definition of regional identity and selfhood.

This can be understood at different levels. All major Hindu gods and goddesses have been worshipped in Kashmir for millennia. This is well attested not just in the ancient texts but in the plethora of iconographic representations of these pan-Indic deities found all over the Valley from early. These include not only colossal Shiv lingas, Bhuteshwaras and Vaikuntha Vishnus, but resplendent images of the Goddess as both Durga Mahisasuramardini and Parvati with family, as also matrikas like Chamunda.

Alongside this saguna (theistic) tradition, a nirguna (monist) Shaiva-Shaktism emerged in Kashmir known as Trika. At the hands of a series of scholar-siddhas, like Utpaladeva, Abhinavagupta, Lalleshwari and Lakshmanjoo (8th-20th century CE), Trika became emblematic of Kashmiri belief, shaping even Islamic Sufism when it arrived in the 14th century.

According to this yogic/tantric school, the universe is replete with one supreme consciousness called Parama Shiva, and Shakti, primeval energy, is its principle of creation (vimarshini). Realising this truth is moksha and Kashmir was literally the place to attain it since liberation suffused its very ecology, as it were.

For example, Harmukh ('mouth of Shiva'), the towering holy mountain 45 km north of Srinagar, is also the name of the point in the human body at which the kundalini shakti lies coiled in the muladhara chakra, and, when awakened, can ascend to pure consciousness.

Or see this verse from Lalleshwari, invoking the hydraulic origins of the Valley (discussed later), and describing Kashmir as a bridge to salvation:

"I saw, once, the waters that flowed / From the Mouth of Shiva (Harmukh) to the Foot of Vishnu (Vishnupad) / Becoming a bridge across the illusory world (samsara)."

Vishnupad or Konser Nag is 65 km south of Srinagar. This allegorical verse thus beautifully captures not just the north-south extent of Kashmir but the complete overlap between her physical and spiritual domains. Parvati too is associated with the vicinity of Konser Nag at Naubandhana peak, having transformed herself into a great boat (nau) to save life forms during the deluge.

Indeed, Shakti worship defines Kashmiri identity through a close association with the very land and waters of Kashmir. The Valley's founding texts, the Nilamata Purana (7th century CE) and Kalhana's Rajatarangini (12th century CE), the 'first' history of Kashmir, speak of a special land that was not just born of the Goddess but embodied her as well.

Thus the originary myth of the formation of Kashmir from the Satisaras or the lake of Sati, Shiva's wife. This lake was said to be inhabited by a demon to kill whom, on the request of sage Kashyap, the gods drained the water, revealing a land fit for human settlement. There is thus a founding association of the land with the Goddess. (Fascinatingly, geologists say Kashmir did indeed emerge from a primordial lake thousands of years ago!)

> Shakti worship defines Kashmiri identity through a close association with the very land and waters of Kashmir. The Valley's founding texts, the Nilamata Purana and Kalhana's Rajatarangini, the 'first' history of Kashmir, speak of a special land that was not just born of the Goddess but embodied her as well

Then, the many rivers of Kashmir were historically identified with different forms of Shakti. Chief among these, Vitasta (modern Jhelum), the lifeline running through the Valley, was said to be Uma or Parvati herself. And by all the mokshadayini (salvation-granting) tributaries of the region ultimately merging into the Vitasta, who is the Goddess Uma, all of Kashmir was deemed purified.

But that's not all. Both the Nilamata and the Rajatarangini also tell us in no uncertain terms that Kashmir itself is Parvati (kashmirah parvati). Thus Kashmir is instated as the very embodiment of Shakti. And, as if to further exemplify Shakti's role in Kashmir's place consciousness, the three paramount kula devis of the Valley worshipped to this day, also manifest as river, spring and hill goddesses.

Thus at the confluence of the rivers Kishenganga and Madhumati stands the ancient shrine of Goddess Sharada, who lent her name to Kashmir as Sharada desha. Today lying in ruins just beyond the LoC, the Sharadapitha was built over a subterraneous spring, which is the Goddess herself. For, according to tradition, when the war was to break out between Rama and Ravana, Parvati was relocated from Lanka to the Himalayas by Hanuman, in the form of water in a kamandala (jar). Wherever drops spilled en route in the Valley, a sacred lake formed, and where the Goddess-bearing kamandala was finally put down is where the sanctum of the Sharada shrine lies.

Another example is Ragnya devi or Kheer Bhavani at Tulmul (ancient Tulyamulya), 22 km out of Srinagar. Her temple is located in the middle of a pond where water miraculously changes colour, presaging auspicious or evil occurrences. It is recorded that the water blackened when Kashmir was invaded by marauding tribals from Pakistan on 22 October 1947.

And then there is Sharika bhagwati, the ishta devi of Srinagar who resides atop the hill Hari Parbat. The Goddess assumed the form of the sharika bird (hari, in Kashmiri) and, lifting a celestial pebble in her beak, dropped it on an evil demon in the Valley, crushing it to death. This pebble then came to rest on the hill and became the Goddess incarnate—a giant rock bearing the natural mark of the shrichakra and fervently venerated as such even today.

Everywhere, then, in Kashmir, its past and present, history and myth, geography and spirituality fold into one another to yield an extraordinary identity rooted in the land and based on Shakti.

A weaker Nitish Kumar

Nitish Kumar's tenure as Chief Minister of Bihar this time will have less teeth as his party has just 43 seats in its kitty, while the BJP, with an impressive 74 seats, will in all likelihood call the shots. The CM will now be left to deal with daunting tasks like tackling unemployment and boosting the economy.
Elizabeth Koshy, Pathanamthitta

GOP responsible for loss

The Indian National Congress is now a pale shadow of its once-formidable self and the main reason why the RJD, the Mahagathbandhan leader in Bihar, could not send Nitish and Co packing. The DMK too has suffered due to its alliance with the GOP in the past and M K Stalin will have to think twice before renewing it for the May 2021 polls.
C V Aravind, Bengaluru

Last refuge of scoundrels

Reports saying that about 68% of the newly elected Bihar MLAs have pending criminal charges, 51% of them having declared serious charges including rape and murder against themselves, are shocking. Can the judiciary register suo moto cases so as to prevent them from taking oath? Isn't it fair to say that politics has become the last refuge of scoundrels?
C G Kuriakose, Kothamangalam

NOTA votes not surprising

In the Bihar poll, over seven lakh voters chose to press the NOTA button. When about 68% of MLAs have criminal backgrounds, some with really serious charges still pending, the rise in NOTA votes is not a big surprise and quite justified.
P P Sahadevan, Nileshwar

Not giving BJP due credit

This is with reference to Reading the Bihar Assembly election results (Nov 12). The author has tried to take away the credit for electoral success from the BJP by using strange arguments. Many of the migrants voted in favour of the NDA because of measures to create employment and free rations by the Central and state governments.

Defeat a warning for TRS

This is with reference to Bypoll defeat a wake-up call for TRS (Nov 12). The TRS has built an enviable election machinery, good campaign strategy and media dominance. Even then, it was unable to make the grade in Dubbaka. The defeat is a warning for the TRS and calls for introspection.

Natural allies

This is with reference to What the Biden presidency means for India (Nov 12). The bilateral relations between the US and India have been complementary. The US requires India to counterbalance China, while we need a powerful ally to thwart the challenges posed by our neighbours.
A M Chakravarty, Hyderabad

Improving social harmony

Madhya Pradesh's 'Har Ghar Diwali' concept, in which authorities have been directed to distribute sweets, crackers, earthen lamps and clothes to local slum dwellers to enjoy the festival, is admirable. These attempts by the regime to include all economically weaker sections of society sans any religious/caste discriminations are vital in improving social harmony.
Cicily Thomas, Muvattupuzha

Good scheme by Centre

The Union Cabinet's approval of the Production Linked Incentive scheme worth `1.46 lakh crore for 10 sectors including white goods manufacture to catalyse domestic production, create jobs and reduce dependence on imports, will help realise the PM's 'Make in India' dream. It will also give hiccups to the belligerent dragon across the border.

Successful end to IPL

The very successful IPL tournament ended on a high note with Mumbai Indians winning the trophy this year. Kudos to the BCCI, the UAE cricket authority and all stakeholders for putting their hearts and hands together to make the tournament a big success. The diligence of everyone involved is truly laudable.

ASEAN meet: PM calls for rule-based regional order

India, Asean affirm importance of promoting peace in Indo-Pacific

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi, who co-chaired the India-ASEAN virtual summit on Thursday, said the grouping is the core of New Delhi's Act East Policy as he pitched for greater connectivity between the two.

"We believe that a cohesive and responsible ASEAN is necessary for security and growth for all in the region. It is our top priority to boost connectivity between India and ASEAN be it physical, economic, cultural, digital, financial or maritime," Modi said in his opening address. Pointing at the convergence of approach of India and ASEAN, he called for ensuring a free, open, inclusive and rules-based Indo-Pacific.

> The leaders affirmed the importance of promoting peace, stability, safety and security in the S. China Sea in particular freedom of navigation and overflight
> Riva Das Ganguly, Secretary (East), MEA

ASEAN is a grouping with 10 countries in the region while India, China, Japan, Australia and the US are its dialogue partners.

According to Riva Das Ganguly, Secretary (East), MEA, all regional and global issues of mutual interests were discussed during the meeting. "Both sides noted the importance of promoting a rules-based order in the region including through upholding adherence to international law, especially UNCLOS," she said. The summit was held amid Beijing's aggressive stance in the South China Sea, where a number of ASEAN member states have territorial differences with China.

Another key issue discussed was connectivity. ASEAN leaders welcomed India's role in enhancing digital and physical connectivity in the region. Modi also announced a contribution of US$1 million to Covid-19 ASEAN Response Fund.

On trade and investment, the PM called for early review of the ASEAN-India Trade in Goods Agreement.

Centre plans iconic structure along Yamuna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

The Centre has decided to build an iconic structure at the proposed 'Nav Bharat Udyan' ('New India Garden') to commemorate the 75th year of the country's independence. It will be located along the western bank of the Yamuna with the maximum permissible height of 134 metres.

The government is also planning to extend the Central Vista Axis from the present 2.9 km to 6.3 km. On the eastern side, it will culminate at the western bank of the Yamuna. This would restore the original design envisioned for the Central Vista project.

Spread over 20.22 acres, Nav Bharat Udyan would be a public place. It will be designed to have an iconic structure and infotainment facilities such as Sphere of Unity, Milestones Walkway, Journey of India, Tech Dome, Amphitheatre, and public amenities in order to showcase India's historical and cultural heritage and scientific achievements. It will also symbolize unity in diversity and aspirations of the "new India", the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs said.

The iconic structure has been planned to realise the vision of 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat', free from poverty, corruption, terrorism, communalism and casteism, according to the government. The structure should become a new symbol of the capital, the ministry said. It should be constructed with indigenous material, it added.

India slams omission of Hafiz Saeed from Pak's terror list

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA on Thursday slammed the 'glaring omission' of the 26/11 terror attack masterminds from the list of most wanted terrorists by Pakistan.

"We have seen media reports in Pakistan about the Federal Investigative Agency (FIA) releasing an updated 'Book on Most Wanted/High Profile Terrorists' listing several Pakistani nationals involved in the 26/11 Mumbai terror attacks. While the list includes a select few members of the Lashkar-e-Taiba, a UN designated terror entity based in Pakistan, including the crew members of the boats used to execute the 26/11 attack, it glaringly omits the mastermind and key conspirators of the heinous terror attack," Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

The FIA had released a list of almost 1,200 most wanted terrorists present on their soil, including 11 of those involved in the Mumbai attacks which left 162 people dead. However, LeT chief Hafiz Saeed and underworld don Dawood Ibrahim did not figure on the list.

The list came even as Pakistan has repeatedly denied the presence of terrorists on its soil. "It is a fact that the 26/11 terror attack was planned, executed and launched from Pakistan's territory. The list makes it clear that Pakistan possesses all the necessary information and evidence on the conspirators and facilitators of the Mumbai terror attack based in Pakistan," Srivastava said.

The MEA spokesperson said the Government of India has repeatedly called on Islamabad to give up its obfuscation and dilatory tactics in discharging its international obligations . But Pakistan is yet to" show sincerity in delivering justice to the families of 166 victims from 15 countries across the globe, even as we near the 12th anniversary of the 26/11 attacks", he said.

'Will set a wrong precedent'
The NIA opposed the proposal to have Rao's medical examination by Nanavati Hospital doctors. It said if the plea was allowed then every prisoner would demand to be sent to a private facility, setting a wrong precedent.

HC DENIES BAIL TO RAO, ASKS NANAVATI DOCTS TO EXAMINE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

THE Bombay High Court on Thursday denied bail to poet and activist Varavara Rao, 81, who has been in custody in connection with the Elgar-Parishad Bhima Koregaon casesince 2018.

Hearing the bail plea filed by his family, a vacation bench of Justices A K Menon and S P Tavade ordered Rao's medical examination by doctors from a private hospital in Mumbai and asked the authorities concerned to submit the report.

The court also asked the doctor(s) treating him to be present in court during the next hearing. The court adjourned the hearing to November 17.

Rao is lodged in the Taloja jail. The high court was hearing a petition filed by Rao's wife Hemlata, seeking that he be shifted to the private Nanavati Hospital for better treatment, an independent medical board be set up to assess his health, and he be released on bail.

Rao's lawyer Indira Jaising claimed that his health was "fast deteriorating", and there was a legitimate apprehension that he might die in prison. Rao is confined to bed in the prison hospital since August and has no bladder control, she said.

If Rao died in prison, it would be a case of 'custodial death', she said, adding this detention violated his right to life under Article 21. "He suffers from dementia, he is in diapers. Is this man going to flee away from justice?" Jaising asked. In the jail hospital, two co-accused, who are not medical professionals, were deputed to take care of him, she alleged.

The bench suggested a team of doctors from Nanavati Hospital, who had examined him in July, may conduct a video medical examination. If they felt a video examination was inadequate, they could use their discretion to conduct a physical examination, it said.

Enrolment done for Covidshield phase-3 trials

NEW DELHI: The world's largest vaccine manufacturer by volume, Serum Institute of India (SII), and the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) on Thursday announced completion of enrolment of phase-3 clinical trials for the Oxford Covid vaccine in India — Covishield. ICMR and SII have also collaborated to get the US-based Novavax's COVID-19 vaccine candidate to India, the ICMR said.

"The partnership is a stellar example of private-public institutes collaborating to mitigate the dire consequences of the pandemic outbreak," the ICMR said in the statement. While the ICMR has funded the clinical trial site fees, SII has funded other expenses for Covishield.

"The promising results of the trials so far give confidence that Covishield could be a realistic solution to the deadly pandemic. Covishield is by far the most advanced vaccine in human testing in India," said the ICMR.

SII said it has completed the enrolment of all 1,600 participants on October 31. "Based on the phase 2/3 trial results, SII with the help of ICMR will pursue the early availability of this product for India. SII has already manufactured 40 million doses of the vaccine, under the at-risk manufacturing and stockpiling license from DCGI," ICMR said. ENS

Shah: Infra boom in border areas under Modi rule

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INFRASTRUCTURE development in the country's border areas in the last six years of the Narendra Modi government has been much more than in the previous 50 years, Union Home Minister Amit Shah said on Thursday.

Citing the airstrikes and surgical strike, Shah claimed India is now giving a befitting reply to enemies rather than the past practice of just issuing a "diplomatic statement".

The Home Minister was addressing a gathering at the Simant Kshetra Vikasotsav-2020 at Dhordo village in Gujarat's Kutch district as part of the Centre's Border Area Development Programme.

Sarpanches (village heads) along with other elected representatives of Kutch, Banaskantha and Patan districts, which share land border with Pakistan, were present at the event. Shah said the government under PM Narendra Modi is committed to develop areas situated along India's border.

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel (India's first home minister) had stressed on stopping migration and providing water, electricity to the border villages. But the Congress governments did not implement it, Shah said, stressing that Modi has taken up that task to fulfil what Patel wanted.

It is necessary to stop the migration of people from border areas. To do so, those areas must be developed at par with cities, Shah said.

A-G nod to contempt charges against stand-up comedian for tweets on SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

ATTORNEY General K K Venugopal on Thursday gave his nod to initiate criminal contempt charges against stand-up comic Kunal Kamra over a series of tweets criticising the Supreme Court for granting interim bail to Republic TV editor-in-chief Arnab Goswami.

A law student and two lawyers had sought consent to sue Kamra for contempt of court. "It is time that people understand attacking the Supreme Court unjustifiably and brazenly will lead to punishment," Venugopal said in his response.

The comedian's tweets were not only in bad taste but clearly crossed the line between humour and contempt, the attorney general said. "The tweet is a gross insinuation against the entirety of the Supreme Court of India and its judges," Venugopal said. "Today people boldly and brazenly condemn the Supreme Court and its judges in what they believe is freedom of speech."

Kamra has put out multiple tweets, including one which had a morphed picture of the SC building, targeting the apex court and judges.

"The picture of the Supreme Court building in saffron colour with the BJP flag is a gross insinuation against the entirety of the Supreme Court of India that it is not an independent and impartial institution and so, too, its judges, but on the other hand is a court of the ruling party, the BJP, existing for the BJP's benefit. All this in my opinion constitutes criminal contempt of court," he said. "Under the constitution, freedom of speech is subject to the law of contempt."

R'than: Gujjar stir off as govt agrees to demands

RAJESH ASNANI @ jaipur

THE Ashok Gehlot government heaved a sigh of relief as the 12-day Gujjar agitation for a quota in government jobs, among other things, was called off on Thursday. The government has accepted all the six demands of the community.

The protestors cleared railway tracks and lifted the blockade of Karauli-Hindaun road. The administration has restored internet services. The Delhi-Mumbai railway track, which was disrupted for the last 12 days due to the agitation, is open again.

After an agreement with the state government in Jaipur on Wednesday night, Gurjar leader Vijay Bainsla reached the Pilupura railway track, the centre of the agitation, in the morning. The protest ended after Bainsla read out the points of agreement to the agitating crowd.

The community celebrated the event by distributing sweets. Bainsla said the government was expected to follow up on the agreement.

On Wednesday, a government committee and the Gujjar community representative Kirori Singh Bainsla had reached the agreement after six-hour talks.

Govt notice to Twitter over incorrect Leh map

New Delhi: The government has issued a notice to Twitter for showing Leh as part of J&K instead of the UT of Ladakh, according to IT ministry sources. The ministry has directed Twitter to explain within five working days why legal action should not be initiated against the microblogging platform and its representatives for disrespecting the territorial integrity of India by showing an incorrect map. In the notice sent to the global vice president of Twitter on November 9, the ministry asserted that showing Leh as part of J&K is a deliberate attempt by the microblogging platform to undermine the will of India's Parliament. A Twitter spokesperson said they had duly responded to the letter.

LAC disengagement: MEA says talks ongoing, no breakthrough to share for now

Gen reviews situation at U'khand border outposts

Army Chief General M M Naravane on Thursday undertook an aerial survey of the border outposts in Chamoli district on the second day of his two-day visit to Uttarakhand. He reviewed the security situation and operational preparedness of the forces. The Army chief, who started his visit ith Mana, the last Indian village on the border, conducted aerial survey of Rimkhim, Niti and Laptal outposts in Chamoli. He later visited the brigade headquarters at Joshimath.

REACTING to reports claiming that India and China had agreed to pull back from friction areas along the Line of Actual Control (LAC), the Ministry of Exteranl Affairs on Thursday saying the discussions are ongoing. "When we have something to share, we will share. The discussions are ongoing," said MEA spokesperson Anurag Srivastava.

"The commander level talks held in Chusul on November 6 were candid, in-depth and constructive and both sides exchanged views on disengagement at all friction points along the LAC in the western sector of border. India and China have agreed to maintain dialogue and communication through military and diplomatic channels, and, taking forward the discussions at this meeting of the senior commanders, push for the settlement of other outstanding issues. They have also agreed to have another round of meeting soon," he said.

Region stability concerns

Russian deputy chief of mission Roman Babushkin on Thursday said further escalations in tensions between India and China could impact regional stability and stressed the need for coming to a negotiated agreement along the LAC.

"Amid turbulence and unpredictability, escalation between India and China would further affect regional instability in our common home Eurasia, while escalation as we are witnessing can be misused by other players in their geopolitical purposes," Babushkin said. Russia has special strategic partnerships with both India and China and was "naturally concerned", he added.

Babushkin said groupings like SCO, BRICS and RIC help to expand common ground and mutual trust illustrating the point by recalling the meeting between EAM S Jaishankar and Chinese FM Wang Yi on the sidelines of SCO foreign ministers' meeting in September.

NDA manipulated the mandate: Tejashwi

RJD leader says Bihar results were in his favour, asks Nitish to give up CM's post if he is left with any conscience

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav was on Thursday elected the Grand Alliance Legislature Party leader and immediately thereafter accused the poll winner NDA of manipulating the mandate of the people in the Assembly polls.

The Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) with 75 MLAs has again emerged the single largest party in the state with more than 97 lakh votes polled in favour of its candidates.

Speaking to the media after a meeting of the Grand Alliance, Tejashwi thanked the people for their support. "No matter who becomes the chief minister, the mandate is again in favour of the RJD-led Grand Alliance (GA). However, the Election Commission has given its verdict in NDA's favour."

He asked the EC to furnish details of the cancelled ballots. "When GA candidates asked for reasons in writing for such cancellations, the EC officials did not respond. I demand a recount of postal ballots under videography," he said. Alleging manipulation in the counting at the behest of CM Nitish Kumar, Tejashwi said: "The JD-U has slipped to the third position in the number of seats each party has got. If Nitish is left with any conscience, he must give up his attachment with the CM's chair." He said the GA candidates were defeated in about 30 seats through "vote manipulation". "Carrying the postal ballot boxes at night in Ara is one such example", he said.

Tejashwi sought to know from the EC as to why the vehicle carrying the EVMs was frequently moved around at night. He appealed to it to keep the CDs containing footage of polling stations sealed as per rules for 40 days.

Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) of Bihar HR Srinivas dismissed allegations of "manipulations" in the polling process. He said the commission went by the book in counting all votes.

Yatra to thank Bihar voters

Thanking the people for their support, Tejashwi said Grand Alliance leaders would undertake a "thanksgiving yatra" across the state. "The Grand Alliance is not a loser. We will not sit silent and continue to raise people's rights," the RJD leader said

Cong concedes it was 'weak link' in GA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVCIE @ New Delhi

AFTER Congress's dismal performance in the Bihar Assembly elections, senior party leaders on Thursday conceded that the Mahagathbandhan (Grand Alliance) couldn't reach the halfway mark of 122 because the grand old party was the "weak link".

For Union minister and Congress leader P Chidambaram said that the party was disappointed with the Bihar poll results and the Congress Working Committee (CWC) will deliberate the issue. "We are definitely disappointed with the Bihar results, but the vote difference between the NDA and the Grand Alliance was just 3 per cent, and the CWC will discuss and take a view on it," he told the media.

The Congress managed to win only 19 of the 70 seats it contested, while the RJD emerged as the single-largest party, winning 75 seats. Their allies Left parties were successful in 16 of the 29 seats they had contested.

Accepting that the Congress could have done much better, senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said the mandate was against Nitish Kumar and despite 15 years of his power, Bihar remains one of the poorest states.

Congress general secretary Tariq Anwar also said the "weak show" by the party stopped the Grand Alliance from forming a government in the state.

"We should accept the truth that due to weak show by the party, the GA could not make the government," said Anwar.

On Wednesday, Bihar Congress president Madan Mohan Jha also admitted that he was not satisfied with the party's performance.

After Bihar success, BJP coins slogan to take on Didi in WB

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

AFTER the NDA's razor-thin victory in the Bihar Assembly elections, the BJP — hoping for a rerun of the victory in West Bengal in 2021 — has coined a new slogan "Ebar Bangla, Parle Samla" (now it's Bengal, defend if you can) to take on the ruling Trinamool Congress.

Party leaders said the new slogan will be circulated at the grassroots level involving party's booth-level workers.

After the Bihar victory, jubilation erupted at the BJP headquarters in central Kolkata on Wednesday. Party supporters said they were confident about Bengal, too, as the party performed exceptionally well in CM Mamata Banerjee's bastion by taking its tally from 2 to 18 in the Lok Sabha polls last year.

"The new slogan will boost the confidence of party's foot soldiers, and it reflects that the era of TMC will end next year. The IT cell will play an active role to help the party spread the slogan through social media platforms," said a BJP leader.

On Wednesday, Bengal's BJP workers and leaders took to social media to emphasise Bihar victory's implications for West Bengal. The trending hashtag #NowBengal gained traction on social media after being tweeted and retweeted by several senior leaders.

Ghosh's convoy attacked

A convoy of West Bengal BJP president Dilip Ghosh and other party leaders was allegedly attacked with stones in West Bengal's Alipurduar district on Thursday. The vehicle in which Kalchini MLA Wilson Champamari was travelling, suffered damages in the attack.It was not yet clear who was behind the attack on the convoy.

Ghosh's vehicle was partially damaged in the attack. The party had registered a sweeping victory by bagging 7 of the 8 Lok Sabha seats in the region.

"We have a strong support base in Alipurduar... The attack was unexpected as the stones were not pelted by TMC supporters. We came to know that activists of the Gorkha Janmukti Morcha carried out the attack," said a BJP leader.

ULFA-I deputy chief Rajkhowa surrenders in Meghalaya

GUWAHATI: Rishti Rajkhowa alias Manoj Rabha, the deputy military chief of the Paresh Baruah faction of insurgent group ULFA-Independent, has surrendered before security forces in Meghalaya.

An explosive expert responsible for many attacks and close to Baruah, Rajkhowa (50) surrendered along with four other members of the insurgent group, the police said.

"...Indian Army formation, deployed in Rangia (Assam) in close coordination with intelligence agencies, the Assam Police and Meghalaya Police, carried out Operation Malakand... which resulted in the surrender of...Drishti Rajkhowa alias Manoj Rabha, along with four other dreaded cadres..." a defence statement said.

Over the past many years, the security forces made several attempts to neutralise Rajkhowa, who had served as the "commander" of an ULFA battalion till 2011 when he first donned the deputy military chief's mantle. He mostly operated out of areas on the Meghalaya-Bangladesh and Meghalaya-Assam borders and planned and executed many operations by the extremist group in Lower Assam.

The security forces believed his surrender had dealt a heavy blow to the insurgent group.

A section of local media, however, reported that Rajkhowa was allowed to surrender by the ULFA's top brass on humanitarian grounds as his wife has been diagnosed with cancer. ENS

DDC polls: Gupkar alliance releases list of seats

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE People's Alliance for Gupkar Declaration (PAGD) on Thursday released its list of candidates for the first phase of District Development Council (DDC) polls in J&K. However, the list does not figure any Congress candidate.

The list for 27 seats in the Valley was approved by NC chief and three-time former J&K CM Farooq Abdullah, who is also the chairman of the PAGD. Of the 27 seats, the NC will be contesting on 21 seats, while Mehbooba Mufti's PDP has been given tickets for four seats and Sajjad Lone's Peoples Conference will be fielding candidates from two seats. The PAGD is yet to release the candidates' names.

The first DDC polls will be held in eight phases from November 28 to December 19. The counting of votes will be held on December 22.

The PAGD, which was formed last month to fight for the restoration of Articles 370 and 35A and statehood, comprises seven parties — the NC, PDP, Peoples Conference, ANC, JKPM, CPI(M) and CPI. The PAGD has also entered into a seat-sharing agreement with the Congress for the DDC polls to prevent the division of votes and unitedly fight against the BJP.

PAGD spokesman and Peoples Conference chairman Sajad Gani Lone said all the candidates have filed their nomination papers.

PAGD coordinator and NC MP Justice (retd) Hasnain Masoodi told this newspaper that the Congress candidate does not figure in the first phase. "We got very little time to prepare the list, and the Congress also joined a few days back. We will be meeting in the next few days to finalise the candidates for the next seven phases," he said.

Farmers protest against the new farm laws in Amritsar on Thursday | PTI

30 farm unions to hold talks with Centre today

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

SOME 30 Punjab farmers' unions have decided to go to New Delhi for a meeting with the union government on Friday but they are firm that the three central farm laws should be withdrawn. The 30 unions will be holding talks with union agriculture minister Narendra Tomar and railway minister Piyush Goyal.

The unions also want a change in the law brought in by the Centre to curb air pollution under which non-compliance is punishable by a jail term of five years or a fine of ₹1 crore or both. While their Dilli Chalo programme on November 26-27 is as per schedule, they will celebrate Diwali by lighting torches. Harmeet Singh Qadian, BKU (Qadian) president said: "We do not expect much to come out of the meeting. The government should withdraw the three laws. Not only these laws they should also amend the law brought by them to curb air pollution."

Qadian said "the fact that defence minister Rajnath Singh first agreed to talk to us and now he was not attending the meet and that the Delhi Police had denied farmers the permission to hold a protest in the national capital on November 26-27 shows the Centre's intent."

"The tax on diesel should be reduced because of the fall in prices of crude oil so that it benefits the farmers," he said, adding that the Centre should lift the "economic blockade" of Punjab by starting train services as farmers were no longer sitting on the rail tracks or platforms of railway stations.

"Also, the Punjab government should release the pending dues of sugarcane farmers of the previous years. Haryana has increased the price of sugarcane to ₹350 per quintal while the cane price has remained the same in Punjab for the last three years," Qadian said.

UP targets 50 lakh jobs in 4 months under Rozgar Mission

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath launched the 'Rozgar Mission' of the state government on Thursday, saying that honesty was reflected in the performance of youth when they got jobs on the basis of merit.

While providing appointment and posting letters to 1,438 junior engineers of the irrigation and water resources department, the CM said when appointed in a transparent manner, the young appointees perform to the best of their abilities with dedication. The Rozgar Mission is a programme under which the government aims to provide jobs to at least 50 lakh youth till March 2021. It will be targeted at largely those who lost their jobs during the Covid-19 economic slowdown. The state had planned the launch scheme post-Diwali, but advanced the event as a Diwali gift.

"A job secured through unfair means using pulls and pressures leads to corruption and dishonesty. Our focus has been to ensure transparency in appointments. Competence has been the basis for making appointments," said CM Yogi. UP Chief Secretary RK Tiwari said through this campaign, the unemployed youth and those who lost their jobs in the past few months will get a chance to apply for jobs in various government departments. The government will also collaborate with the private sector to create jobs," the chief secretary said.

Tiwari said under the programme, the government would also help people become self-employed by linking it with the Atmanirbhar Bharat scheme of the Centre. A database of employment will also be prepared. For this, an app and a web portal are being developed by the Directorate of Training and Employment.

Actor Asif Basra found hanging

Chandigarh: Actor Asif Basra, a familiar face in several movies and TV shows including "Jab We Met", 'Kai Po Che!' and "Paatal Lok", was found hanging in a residential complex in Dharamshala on Thursday. He was 53. "He hanged himself around 12-12.30 today. We are investigating the matter. We have sent the body for post-mortem," Kangra SSP Vimukt Ranjan said.

Work begins for ICP construction

New Delhi: Union minister Piyush Goyal and Nepal minister Krishna Gopal Shreshta on Thursday virtually participated in the ground breaking ceremony for the Integrated Check Post (ICP) at Nepalgunj. The ICP is being built to systematise the movement of cross-border cargo trucks by bringing customs and immigration facilities under one roof.

Drunken driving nakas return with options for violators

THE Chandigarh Traffic Police has resumed the drunken driving challan drive by giving two options to suspected violators: either blow into the pipe linked with alcoholsensor or get their blood test done. The drive was put on hold after the imposition of lockdown because of the Covid-19 pandemic. While adopting all Covid-19 precautions, minimum traffic personnel are being deployed at nakas. Since March 25, when the lockdown was imposed, merely five people have been challaned for drunken driving. In March, PGI doctors had advised the Chandigarh Administration to suspend the drunken driving challans drive, finding the then procedures, including the use of single pipe for many people to blow into the alcosensor, faulty.

IAS officer, cop engage in verbal spat at Sukhna

Additional secretary (Home) in the Punjab Government Keshav Hingonia and Chandigarh Police inspector Sri Parkash had a heated argument at the Sukhana Lake recently. Hingonia, a 2012-batch Punjab cadre IAS officer, accused Parkash of using abusive language, misbehaving and trying to assault him, while Parkash claimed that Hingonia was walking in the late area without wearing a face mask and was spitting in public, the violating Covid-19 norms. Both the officer have lodged complaints against each other at the Sector 3 police station. Sources said Parkash spotted Hingonia spitting and raised strong objection. The civil servant asked the policeman to talk with him in a decent manner, which triggered a verbal altercation.

UT's traffic police gets first woman SSP

Manisha Chaudhary, a 2011-batch IPS officer of the Haryana-cadre. has been appointed as senior superintendent of the Chandigarh police (traffic and security), becoming the first woman SSP. The Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) has approved her appointment on inter-cadre deputation from Haryana to the(Arunachal Pradesh-Goa-Mizoram-Union Territories for three years. She is likely to assume the charge after Diwali. She was currently serving as the SP of Panipat. Shashank Anand, who was holding the post of DIG (security and traffic), was relieved from his duties on July 30 and transferred back to his parent cadre. Currently, SP (headquarters) Manoj Meena is holding the additional charge of SSP (traffic).

'Water station to be set up soon'

The Chandigarh administration has told the National Green Tribunal (NGT) that due to lack of proper space and infrastructure at the Sukhna choe or N-choe, the real-time water quality monitoring station could be set up at the choe. The administration, however, said it was exploring the possibilities. It said the work will be completed soon as the tender is under allotment. In August, the administration had assured the NGT that the station will be set up at the choe. This choe passes through many sectors of the city and gets flooded during monsoons.

Biden tells Asian allies not to worry about security

Reaffirms commitment to defend Japan, South Korea and Australia

WASHINGTON

AMERICAN President-elect Joe Biden rang round allies in Seoul, Sydney and Tokyo Thursday, vowing to repair frayed partnerships and reaffirming mutual-defence pacts thrown in doubt by the current White House.

A day after Biden's series of "America is back" calls with European leaders, the former vice president spoke to Australia's Scott Morrison, South Korea's Moon Jae-in and the recently installed Japanese leader Yoshihide Suga. All three men had already congratulated Biden on his recent election victory over Donald Trump, despite the incumbent's refusal to concede.

Biden's call with Suga included a stark warning from the Japanese prime minister that the "security situation is increasingly severe" around the region, according to an account of the call from Japanese officials.

Suga's unusually frank analysis was met with Biden expressing his "deep commitment to the defence of Japan" and to decades-old treaty obligations, according to his transition team. During the four-year Trump administration, America's regional allies often questioned whether the mercurial president would uphold longstanding promises to defend them in the event of a military conflagration.

In a move analysts say is likely to cause protest in Beijing, Biden reportedly confirmed this defence commitment extended to the Senkakus, an uninhabited island chain claimed by both Japan and China, which has been a potential flashpoint for decades.

In a separate 14-minute call with Moon, Biden was said to have described the US-South Korea alliance as "the linchpin of security and prosperity" in the region, and vowed to work together on "shared challenges".

Trump had publicly mulled withdrawing troops from Japan and South Korea, where more than 20,000 US military personnel are currently stationed to deter any North Korean military action.

South Korea's presidential Blue House said Moon and Biden had agreed to meet "as soon as possible" after the American's inauguration.

In his call with Australia's leader, Biden received an invitation to visit next year for the 70th anniversary of a security treaty between the two countries. AFP

State Dept blocks Biden's access to messages

In a sign of the Trump administration's continuing hostility towards Joe Biden, the US State Department has blocked the president-elect's access to congratulatory messages from foreign leaders. According to CNN, "a stack of messages from foreign leaders to Biden are sitting at the State Department." Biden has held calls with a few foreign leaders, but without the support of the State Department, which traditionally facilitates president-elect's communications with foreign leaders

Joe picks long-time aide Ron Klain as chief of staff

WASHINGTON

US President-elect Joe Biden has chosen his longtime adviser Ron Klain (pic) to reprise his role as his chief of staff, installing an aide with decades of experience in the top role in his White House. Klain will lead a White House likely to be consumed by the response to the coronavirus pandemic, which continues to spread unchecked across the nation, and he'll face the challenge of working with a divided Congress that could include a Republican-led Senate. Klain served as the coordinator to the Ebola response during the 2014 outbreak.

In a statement Wednesday night, Biden suggested he chose Klain because his longtime experience in Washington had prepared him for such challenges.

Klain served as chief of staff for Biden during Barack Obama's first term, was chief of staff to Vice President Al Gore in the mid-1990s and was a key adviser on the Biden campaign, guiding coronavirus response.

The choice of Klain underscores the effort the incoming Biden administration will place on the coronavirus response. Klain has experience in public health as the Ebola response coordinator and played a central role in implementing the Obama administration's economic recovery plan in 2009. AP

Maryam Nawaz says she's open to dialogue with the army

Pakistan's leading Opposition leader Maryam Nawaz on Thursday indicated that she is willing to hold talks with the powerful army to reduce the prevailing political tension in the country. But, said any such dialogue should be held openly in front of the people—not in secret, she added. Maryam, Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) Vice President and daughter of former prime minister Nawaz Sharif, however, said that any such dialogue should be held only after the Imran Khan-led "selected" government was sent packing. "Army is my institution. We are ready to hold talks (with the army) but only within the framework of the Constitution. And such talks will be held right before the eyes of the people. We will not hold any secret dialogue," she said told BBC Urdu

21 members of South Korean religious sect arrested

Singaporean authorities have arrested 21 people who are thought to be connected to a secretive South Korean religious sect that was widely blamed for thousands of virus infections in that country. The 12 women and nine men were arrested for "allegedly being members of an unlawful society," Singapore's home affairs ministry said. Its statement issued late on Wednesday added that the groups had been participating in activities connected to the unregistered local chapter of the Shincheonji Church of Jesus, which is registered in South Korea

Tripadvisor warning for hotel that sued guest over bad reviews

Travel website Tripadvisor has slapped a warning on a Thai resort's listing, after it launched legal action against an American expat over a negative review, which briefly landed him in prison. In July, Wesley Barnes wrote of encountering "unfriendly staff" and accused the Sea View hotel and spa on Koh Chang island of "modern day slavery" following a dispute over a corkage fee. The resort later sued Barnes and he spent two days in police custody after being arrested and charged under Thailand's strict defamation laws. Barnes and the resort reached a settlement after a mediation session last month. Tripadvisor said it had taken the "extraordinary action" of posting a warning on the hotel's listing so other travellers were aware of the incident

Shots fired at Saudi embassy in Netherlands

The Hague: Several shots were fired at the Saudi embassy in the Dutch city of The Hague on Thursday, causing damage but no injuries, police said. The incident comes a day after a bomb blast struck a World War I commemoration attended by foreign diplomats in the Saudi city of Jeddah. The Dutch foreign ministry said it was taking the shooting "very seriously". Numerous bullet holes could still be seen in the windows

Scores of civilians killed in Ethiopia: Amnesty

Addis Ababa: Amnesty International said on Thursday that scores of civilians were killed in a "massacre" in Ethiopia's Tigray region that witnesses blamed on forces backing the local ruling party in its conflict with the federal government. "Amnesty International can today confirm... that scores, and likely hundreds, of people were stabbed or hacked to death in Mai-Kadra town in the South West Zone of Ethiopia's Tigray on November 9"

Job stimulus to boost medium-term growth

SESA SEN @ New Delhi

WITH the economy showing signs of turning the corner, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday hlaid down a framework for boosting employment and encouraging companies to consider re-hiring of workers, including those who may have lost their jobs during the lockdown. Experts, however, have pointed out that the benefits of the proposed measures may manifest into a growth boost only over the medium term.

The government has announced a special EPFO subsidy for a period of two years for all new employees who joined office on or after October with a monthly salary of less than ₹15,000. Ordinarily, employees have to contribute 12 per cent of their salary towards EPF and employers have to match this contribution every month. Now, the government will take care of the aggregate contribution of 24 per cent. "This is a good incentive mechanism, but we would urge the government to reconsider the ceiling wage level of ₹15,000 for applicability of the scheme as in many parts of the country the average wage levels are higher," said Sangita Reddy, president of industry chamber FICCI.

Between April and August 2020, 23.7 lakh new EPF subscribers have joined while 10.1 lakh subscribers exited but rejoined and re-subscribed. Overall, there were 25 lakh net new EPF subscribers (as 8.8 lakh exited permanently). "If we purely go by current trends, we believe that almost 15-20 lakh employees will be benefited by March 2021," pointed out Soumya Kanti Ghosh, Group Chief Economic Adviser, State Bank of India.

> This is a good incentive mechanism, but we would urge the government to reconsider the ceiling wage level of ₹15,000... as in many parts of the country the average wage levels are higher
> Sangita Reddy, FICCI

While the subsidy will leave greater disposable income in the hands of both the employee and the employer, especially those in small and medium-size firms, it should be noted that EPF is a long term savings instrument and does little to stimulate the economy in the near term. "The Centre should consider allowing employees and employers to suspend EPF contributions for the next one year. It will release thousands of crore in liquidity to boost short term consumption and without any impact on fiscal deficit," noted Rishi Agrawal, Co-founder & CEO, Avantis Regtech.

Thursday's scheme focussing on employment is expected to cost the exchequer ₹6,000 over the two years. Apart from the Aatmanirbhar Bharat Rozgar Yojana, other measures such as the ₹6,000 crore infusion in NIIF for debt funding infrastructure projects and additional allocation ₹18,000 crore towards Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) will also help increase job creation, experts note.

Taxation norms on real estate deals relaxed

Among the more important measures announced is a relaxation in income tax norms on the sale of residential units priced up to ₹2 crore below prevailing circle rates. Until now, only a difference of 10 per cent was allowed between the circle rate and the agreement value. This has now been increased to 20 per cent till June 30, 2021.

Realty sector welcomes relief measures, expects unsold inventory to start falling

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday announced a slew of measures, including tax reliefs and additional fund allocations, to boost the country's ailing housing sector. Industry representatives welcomed the measures, saying that they would help them clear unsold inventory, reduce the burden of buyers, and create more employment.

Among the measures is a relaxation in income tax norms on the sale of residential units priced up to ₹2 crore below prevailing circle rates. Until now, only a difference of 10 per cent was allowed between the circle rate and the agreement value. This has now been increased to 20 per cent till June 30, 2021.

Anuj Puri, Chairman - ANAROCK Property Consultants, said, "The consequential relief up to 20 per cent to buyers of these units under Section 56(2)(x) of the IT Act will definitely boost demand, especially in the affordable and mid segments." According to Anarock, there are approximately 5.45 lakh unsold units across India's top seven metro markets.

The government has also announced an allocation of ₹18,000 crore in additional funds for the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana and a ₹6,000 crore equity infusion into the National Investment and Infrastructure Fund (NIIF). "The additional outlay of ₹18,000 crore for PMAY is a step in the right direction towards fulfilling the vision of Housing for All... it will generate employment and support other industries, having a multiplier effect on the economy," said Anshuman Magazine, Chairman & CEO - India, South East Asia, Middle East & Africa, CBRE. Industry executives also said that the move would encourage many developers to consider taking up housing projects under the PMAY Urban scheme.

CREDAI President Satish Magar said that the additional credit under the ECLGS scheme was also a welcome step and would address the liquidity crisis to a certain extent. "The one-year moratorium on principal payment is encouraging too. However, the restriction of SMA 0 accounts will deprive many borrowers particularly real estate developers. CREDAI hopes that the Government would reconsider the restriction of SMA 0 accounts," said Magar.

Moody's expects India GDP to fall 8.9% in 2020

The ratings agency had earlier predicted that the economy would contract by 9.6%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

MOODY'S Investors Service on Thursday revised its forecast for India's economy and said will shrink by 8.9 per cent in calendar year 2020 due to the ongoing pandemic, against an earlier forecast of a deeper 9.6 per cent contraction.

The revision comes as the number of active Coronavirus cases has fallen from a peak of 10 lakh to 4.89 lakh and the economy starts picking up pace after a contraction of nearly 24 per cent in the April-June quarter. "The steady decline in new and active (COVID-19) cases since September, if maintained, should enable further easing of restrictions. We, therefore, forecast a gradual improvement in economic activity over the coming quarters," Moody's said in a note.

The Indian economy likely entered into a technical recession for the first time since independence at the end of the first half of 2020-21. The Reserve Bank of India has ₹Nowcast' that India's GDP for the July-September quarter is set to contract by 8.6 per cent. The central bank, however, also forecasts that there would be positive growth in the current October-December quarter.

In its Global Macro Outlook 2021-22, Moody's also revised upwards India's GDP forecast for calendar year 2021 to 8.6 per cent growth from an earlier projection of 8.1 per cent expansion. India had grown by 4.8 per cent in 2019.

Moody's pointed out that restrictions have eased slowly and in phases, with localised restrictions in containment zones continuing. "As a result, the recovery has been patchy."

However, it said that a steady decline in new and active coronavirus cases since September could enable a further easing of restrictions. "We, therefore, forecast a gradual improvement in economic activity," it said. Speaking of emerging market economies, Moody's warned that "going forward, neither trade growth nor a commodity price boom is likely to be a reliable source of growth. And limited room for fiscal support will likely undermine the strength of the recovery."

PUBG to make India comeback, plans $100 mn investment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

MONTHS after the Indian government banned more than 150 Chinese apps over national security concerns, including highly popular mobile game PUBG, the South Korea-based PUBG Corporation has said that the game will return to Indian markets in a customised form called PUBG Mobile India. PUBG Corporation and its parent company KRAFTON also announced an investment of $100 million for the Indian market, which had accounted for 26 per cent of the overall downloads before its ban.

Allaying the security-related cancerns that had been raised due to its partnership with Chinese internet firm Tencent, PUBG had earlier announced that it will no longer authorize the Chinese firm to market the franchise in India. The $100 million investment in its new Indian subsidiary will be used for cultivating domestic video game, e-sports, entertainment, and IT ecosystems, the PUBG Corporation said.

"The company also plans to make investments by hosting India-exclusive e-sports events, which will feature the biggest tournaments, the largest prize pools, and the best tournament productions," the game development company added.

The South Korean firm also plans to hire 100 employees specialising in business, e-sports, and game development for its Indian subsidiary, set up a local office, and actively collaborate with local businesses to strengthen its service.

As for privacy concerns, the company said that it will conduct regular audits and verifications on the storage systems holding Indian users' personally identifiable information and ensure that their data is safely managed. Besides PUBG Mobile India will also have content tailored to reflect local needs. The Indian version of PUBG will also have a feature to enable parents to restrict game time for young gamers.

Amazon has no investor rights over Future Retail: Future Grp

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

FUTURE Retail Ltd's lawyers told the Delhi High Court on Thursday that e-commerce giant Amazon is not even a minority shareholder in FRL and hence could not exercise its right to veto the FRL-Reliance agreement.

Senior lawyer Harish Salve, appearing for FRL, also told the court that Amazon could have invested in FRL as a Foreign Portfolio Investor (FPI), but had not done so. Hence, he argued, it could not have a say on whether the Biyani-led group should sell its retail, warehousing and logistics unit to Reliance Industries. Salve also maintained that the emergency arbitration award in Amazon's favour extended by a Singapore arbitration tribunal was based on 10 per cent portfolio investment rights and was not applicable in the Indian ecosystem.

With respect to Amazon's claim that FRL violated its contract, especially because Reliance Industries was specified in the restricted entities category, Salve said that the e-commerce firm cannot exercise such rights in FRL. "These are anti-competition rights which they can exercise in FCPL (Future Coupons Limited)," he said.

The senior advocate also likened Amazon to East India Company, saying that by blocking the RIL-FRL deal, it was endangering the employment opportunities of thousands of people. "Just because they have put in ₹1,400 crore, they want to kill a ₹25,000 crore company," he alleged.

Amazon, meanwhile, has also written to market regulators BSE and SEBI accusing the Future Group of violating insider trading norms by revealing price sensitive information to Reliance with respect to the EA award.

Dhanteras demand spike raises hopes, jewellery sector eyes quicker revival

BINITA JAISWAL @ Chennai

DHANTERAS began on Thursday and the initial response of customers has the jewellery industry hoping for a better-than-expected festive sales season. According to jewellers who spoke to this publication, customers seem to have shrugged off the pessimism and positive sentiment is beginning to rise.

Dhanteras is considered as among the most auspicious occasions in the Hindu calendar for big-ticket purchases, especially that of gold and silver.

Anantha Padmanaban, chairman of the All India Gem and Jewellery Domestic Council, said that the jewellery industry is extremely optimistic about Deepavali sales this year since demand has displayed steady momentum since Dusherra. Padmanaban said that the industry expects to reach almost 70 per cent of last year's sales during the next few weeks. "Gold prices are stable now and footfall in the jewellery stores has increased significantly. During Dusherra, the industry managed to reach 50-55 per cent of last year's business and we are expecting a further boost of 20-25 per cent during Deepavali," he said.

Jewellers also noted that while there has been good footfall since Thursday morning, since Dhanteras is being celebrated for two days (Thursday and Friday) this year, they would get a clearer picture of demand only by late Friday night.

The industry has also come up with attractive offers and schemes to attract customers this year. "We have specially created gold coins for Dhanteras, but customers have been more interested in wearable jewellery," pointed out C Vinod Hayagriv, managing director of C Krishniah Chetty Group of Jewellers. "The per transaction sizes have grown more than last year. We are confident we will be close to last year's Diwali sales figure," he added.

Somasundaram PR, Managing Director-India, World Gold Council alsofeels online gold purchasing has also picked up and organised players in the industry will be benefitted more because of their "tech interface and better response to emerging buying behaviours, and digital gold platforms promoting micro savings and safe gold accumulations".

Jubilant sales plunge 18.2% in Sept qtr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

JUBILANT FoodWorks Ltd, which operates fast-food chains Domino's Pizza and Dunkin Donuts, saw sales crash 18.2 per cent during the September quarter to ₹805.50 crore as the pandemic continued to disrupt the dine-in segment.

October sales, however, improved to 96.2 per cent of last year levels, with deliveries growing by 16.3 per cent and takeaway by 64.3 per cent, the company said on Thursday.

Net profit remained nearly flat at ₹76.91 crore for the September quarter, against ₹75.92 crore in the corresponding quarter last year. Jubilant has closed 100 Domino's Pizza stores in the second quarter, bringing the total down to 1,264. But it also opened 10 new outlets and forayed into a new city, but overall operations have fallen to just 281 cities now.

"Our continued focus on strengthening our app and on digital marketing led to a record number of app downloads (at 6.3 million). Our Covid-19 response strategy is working and we are confident of navigating the challenges in the months ahead," said Pratik Pota, CEO and wholetime director, Jubilant FoodWorks Limited.

"Metro towns such as Mumbai, Delhi-NCR and Bangalore showed a slower recovery as compared to other smaller towns," he added. Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation, and Amortization (EBITDA) stood at ₹214.7 crore.

SAIL introduces shorter working period scheme

Steel Authority of India Ltd (SAIL) has introduced a shorter working period scheme in order to facilitate a better work-life balance for its employees. The Scheme, effective from November 2020, is applicable for all regular employees up to the mid-management level. Employees up to the E-7 grade can opt from various shorter working hour options such as 3 days a week, every alternate day, four hours every working day or half of the working days in a month with a variable pay structure. Employees availing of this Scheme will be able to retain facilities and benefits.

He was allegedly carrying undisclosed gold and other valuables. Mumbai Indians didn't release any statement on this.

40 tests, 4 partners in 3 months

For veteran Bopanna, life in pro tennis amid coronavirus practicalities is different but rewarding

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

"I don't know, maybe about 35-40," Rohan Bopanna says. He is replying to a question on how many Covid-19 tests he has had to do since playing his first tournament, Cincinnati Masters in August. "You take a test every time you enter a tournament, then you take a test once every 3-4 days... on top of that, most airlines demand a negative certificate so you take one before every journey."

The World No 39 in doubles is now into his third decade at the professional level, so it's fair to say he has seen a lot. Yet, the last three-and-a-half months of tennis has left him feeling like a kid in a candy store. "I had missed it a lot during the lockdown so it was nice to compete again. I'm thankful to all the tournament organisers. What they have done, it's not easy but they have pulled it off." But he did miss something. "It was different because we didn't have the fans, really did miss them. The atmosphere isn't what you are accustomed to."

It's not been easy because organisers have had to secure special permissions from their governments to ensure there would be no quarantines for the players coming into their country. Bio-bubbles had to be created and maintained and trust, an important currency even in normal circumstances, had to be ever present.

The 40-year-old says the organisers ticked all the boxes, he understood all the Covid-related precautions. "We all knew the tests were done to keep the environment safe from infection. Was it uncomfortable? Apart from those few seconds when I was having my nasal swab, I wouldn't say so. We are still working and being paid... just thankful for that."

When the conversation switches to his on-court form, he's again thankful, first and foremost, to having had the opportunity to get back. "I got a lot of matches, reached the final (European Open with Matwe Middelkoop), had the quarterfinal in Paris Masters (Oliver Marach)... nice streak I would say."

In all, he reached quarterfinals thrice, as many first-round exits and one final. But what that sequence doesn't tell is that he had four partners. Even if doubles exponents do have multiple partners, having four different ones in back-to-back weeks is unusual.

Bopanna agrees. "I don't think I have had that many in as many weeks, but it's just this season. The plan was Marach and me in Vienna (World Tour 500). But after realising that we wouldn't make the cut as it was competitive, I decided to play in Nur Sultan (Astana Open) with (Frederik) Nielsen before getting back to Paris for the Masters. You would stay in Europe but I took a detour from Belgium (for European Open) to Asia and back to Europe. The cuts this year meant a lot of players had to do that."

Currently in home quarantine after getting back to India the extraordinary circumstances mean he doesn't know when he will leave for Australia. "Do you know when the season is going to begin? Exactly, we don't know yet."

Pune meeting after Diwali

Meanwhile, the meeting to decide the fate of Tata Open Maharashtra has been put back by two weeks. The organisers and the Maharashtra government were scheduled to meet in the first week of November.

Extended season in BCCI's plans

ATREYO MUKHOPADHYAY @Chennai

AFTER IPL, it's domestic cricket. Format, dates and venues will be finalised at the BCCI's annual general meeting (AGM) next month. But following informal discussions before the IPL final in Dubai between state association representatives and board officials, it seems an extended season is on the cards. On the senior men's side, there are plans for Ranji Trophy and T20s.

The BCCI has already announced intentions of starting Ranji Trophy in January. Keeping in mind bio-bubble and other safety precautions, matches will be held in select states, which have multiple grounds. Until last season, there were three groups in Elite and one in Plate. It went on for a little over three months.

There are plans to have more groups this season so that the duration becomes shorter. If it gets over by early March, there will be time for Mushtaq Ali Trophy before IPL 2021, which is slated to begin in April.

There are also talks to have U-23 and other age-group tournaments during IPL. Usually when IPL is held, competitions in these sections are over. But nothing has been held this year due to the pandemic. So April-May is a window that can be used. Situation permitting, BCCI may even be willing to extend the season by a couple of months to accommodate as many tournaments as possible. Normally, season ends with the IPL.

These possibilities were discussed in Dubai, where representatives of all state associations were invited for the IPL final. A gathering over lunch with BCCI president Sourav Ganguly and secretary Jay Shah was planned. Although that was cancelled, there was time for informal talks. The BCCI wants to listen to suggestions from the state associations and if need be, there might be an informal meeting before the AGM.

Format of the Ranji Trophy will be a key point of discussions. There are suggestions from certain state units to have a regional group phase, wherein teams from five zones play a round-robin league before knockouts. It's not clear what happens to Northeast teams in this format. The other idea is six teams in each group irrespective of region. These are possibilities at this stage. Clearer picture will emerge only after the meetings.

For women, the 50-over event may be conducted from January. There is no information on T20s and age-group tournaments.

FINS CLIP FRENCH WINGS

While Portugal thrashed Andorra, Finland produced an unexpected win against France in football friendlies on Wednesday. A look at the highlights...

France suffer shock loss

Finland stunned World Cup winners France 2-0 as the hosts were punished for missing a number of chances.

Spain held by Netherlands

Donny van de Beek scored an equaliser as the Netherlands came from a goal down to draw 1-1 with Spain. It was a fourth match in charge without a win for Netherlands coach Frank de Boer.

Half-time horror for Croatia's Vida

Croatia defender Domagoj Vida was informed that he tested positive for Covid-19 after playing the first half against Turkey. The squad tested negative on Monday but additional testing was carried out on Wednesday.

Ronaldo closer to goal world record

Cristiano Ronaldo is closer to the all-time record for most international goals as Portugal thrashed Andorra 7-0. He netted his 102nd goal for Portugal. Iran's Ali Daei holds the record (109).

RESULTS

1 Germany kept a clean sheet for the first time this year when they beat Czech Republic.

Turkey 3-3 Croatia, Denmark 2-0 Sweden, Netherlands 1-1 Spain, Belgium 2-1 Switzerland, Italy 4-0 Estonia, Germany 1-0 Czech Republic, Portugal 7-0 Andorra, Poland 2-0 Ukraine, France 0-2 Finland.

Shield to be senior event

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @ New Delhi

AFTER three years of existence as an U-19 event, IFA Shield, one of the oldest football competitions, is set to feature senior teams this year with four I-League clubs confirmed to take part. Eight more teams from Kolkata will constitute the rest of the 12-team roster.

It will be played from December 6-20. The I-League clubs are Mohammedan Sporting, Sudeva Delhi FC, Gokulam Kerala and Indian Arrows. Mohun Bagan will not be present and there is uncertainty over East Bengal.

While officials and supporters want to see East Bengal play, dates have clashed with ISL. Officials have written to investors, asking them to allow the formation of a reserve team which can take part in meets like Shield, Durand Cup and Calcutta Football League.
